REDS ADVANCE ON NAZI POSTS

Gas Ration Opens Nov. 22; 35-Mile Speed Limit Set

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced tonight that nation-wide gasoline rationing would start probably about Nov. 22 with a basic ration of slightly under four gallons a week.

Motor fuel rationing for the country's 27,000,000 private vehicles — patterned after the system now in effect on the Atlantic seaboard — will be merged with tire rationing into a single program, Henderson said. He did not explain how this would be accomplished.

Earlier in the day Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, called for a nation-wide speed limit of 35 miles an hour. Compliance with this, Henderson announced, will be a basic requirement for obtaining both tire and gasoline rations.

Tire Inspection

In addition, tires on all cars must be submitted every 60 days after rationing starts for on-wheel inspection to insure that proper care is given them.

The 35-mile speed limit on all highways and streets was decreed in an official ODT order. It did not carry enforcement or penal provisions but Eastman said he would request the governors of all states to make it effective "through proclamation or otherwise."

The speed limit was ordered effective Oct. 1 for all vehicles except trucks and buses operated by common carriers over regularly-scheduled routes and for the latter Oct. 15.

Exemptions Listed

Motor vehicles operated by the armed forces or under their direction were exempted, as were cars driven in emergencies "for the protection and preservation of life and health or for public safety."

The gasoline rationing program will give to each automobile, on the minimum A-card basis, enough gasoline for 2,880 miles of driving a year, reckoned at 15 miles to the gallon.

Provision will be made for supplemental rations in certain cases, as is done now in the east, but Henderson emphasized that additional gasoline will be allowed only on proof of need and in quantities strictly limited to the degree of essentiality to the nation's war effort."

JAP-HELD MANILA FIGHTS MEDICINE, FOOD SHORTAGES

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — Japanese-occupied Manila was pictured today by Americans recently returned to this country as an isolated and uneasy capital, facing mounting hardships with supplies nearing exhaustion.

The Philippine capital was said to be almost as remote from other parts of the Philippines as from the United States, without postal or telegraph services and with trains running only to two nearby points.

No Medicine

On the basis of detailed information supplied by some of the 13 Americans who returned from the Philippines last month on the Swedish diplomatic exchange liner Gripsholm, a volunteer "relief for Americans in the Philippines" committee reported in a circular to parents and friends of internees:

"There are no medicines, not a scrap of leather, very little soap, no brushes, toothpaste, paper, nor other materials and certain food staples. Manila stocks had either been taken by the Japanese or consumed by the population. Certain foods are available, but there is no money to buy them."

No Shipments

Much food and other necessities are imported into the tropical Philippine capital, but since the Pearl Harbor, shipments for civilian use were said to have virtually ceased.

Some 3,500 civilians, mostly Americans, are interned at Santo Tomas university, but another 1,000 Americans were estimated to be at liberty in the city, mostly persons over 60, in the clergy, ill, women with small children, and missionaries willing to agree to cooperate with the conquerors. Most of the former homes of Americans were said to be occupied by Japanese military officials.

AXIS WILL FETE SIGNING OF PACT

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Germany has set the stage for an emotionally extravagant observance of the second anniversary tomorrow of the signing and ratification of the military alliance joining the reich, Italy and Japan.

The propaganda machine was running full-tilt to make the anniversary seem, somehow, to be a great military victory and a political achievement of first magnitude.

Outstanding symbol of the occasion is the axis claim that a Japanese submarine has berthed in a German U-boat base on the Atlantic coast.

The axis press and radio around the world is resounding with the achievement of that single Japanese vessel, which made its way through hostile waters half way around the earth to turn up in Europe at just the right moment to be in the center of the picture for the axis anniversary celebration.

A better symbol for the occasion, which German propagandists obviously had been hoping they might use, would have been the fall of Stalingrad. But the Russians perversely refused to be cooperative, so officials entrusted with the task of stimulating German morale and who are expected to produce a victory each Sunday, when Germans have some leisure to reflect, were making the most of the submarine.

The pact, when it was signed two years ago, was hailed in Berlin as a major bombshell of the future diplomacy which was going to keep the United States out of the war.

Costa Rica Hunts 3 U. S. Saboteurs

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Sept. 26 (AP) —The office of public security announced tonight three alleged nazi saboteurs wanted by the United States authorities are now in Costa Rica and are being hunted.

They are Reinhold Rudolph Barth, Joseph Schmidt and Walter Kappe, said by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the U. S. federal bureau of investigation, to be well trained saboteurs and associates of the eight men recently convicted in Washington.

It was announced big rewards had been offered by the Costa Rican government for the arrest of the trio or for information that would lead to their arrest.

POST-WAR BUYING WILL BE GREAT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—If peace came tomorrow, Americans generally would want $5,000,000,000 worth of automobiles, washing machines, radios, refrigerators, improvements and new homes—and what's more, would have the money.

The United States Chamber of Commerce made this estimate today, explaining it was based on a national survey of family needs which would be revised from time to time to provide an up to date forecast of the post-war market.

The chamber said its first survey showed that if the war ended now the demand during the first six months would include:

Two million one hundred thousand automobiles; 1,500,000 mechanical refrigerators; 1,200,000 washing machines; 1,200,000 radios; 1,200,000 items of furniture; 800,000 electric irons; 600,000 sewing machines; 600,000 new houses.

In addition, 3.4 of every ten home owners plan to make repairs and improvements and six of every ten farmers plan to build or repair outbuildings, barns, fences and tenant houses.

The survey showed that 56 per cent of the families now are saving money and that 19 per cent are saving for a specific post-war purchase.

Questioned about their views on the post-war employment outlook, about 50 per cent expressed the belief there would be plenty of jobs, while 38 per cent looked for serious unemployment.

As for purchasing power, 30 per cent of the families said they were better off than before the war, 27 per cent said they were not as well off, and 43 per cent saw no change.

Regional OPA to Set Milk Prices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today gave regional OPA offices the power to raise or lower milk prices in smaller communities where price differentials between cities in the same producing area have caused a diversion of milk to the high-price community and a shortage in the other.

Early Drive Nets 206 Tons of Scrap

Twin Falls county contributed 206 tons of scrap iron to meet the desperate need for steel in war production in the first two days of the salvage campaign, reports from the county's six collection depots showed late last night.

The two depots in Twin Falls reported 127 tons of the total, and all six said a great deal of the iron came in small contributions from many workers and owners. All communities reported plans for continuing the drive along lines laid out after pre-campaign surveys. Supt. A. W. Morgan, Twin Falls county chairman, last night was enthusiastic over the success of the drive to date, and urged all workers to continue their most strenuous efforts.

Urges Early Action

"The scrap iron is coming in fine," he said, "even a little better than we expected, but this is no time for lying down on the job. I urge farmers to get their scrap in as soon as possible. I realize that many are busy, but it's up to us to get the job for our boys who are out on the front lines all over the world for a far bigger job. The drive will be continued for an indefinite period."

Morgan said he was surprised in traveling over the county Saturday to see so many women bringing in scrap iron and unloading it.

"That is one way farmers are meeting the problem of doing their bit in a scrap iron campaign that comes in the middle of the bean harvest," he declared.

Scouts Collect 20 Tons

In their house-to-house solicitation in Twin Falls yesterday, the Boy Scouts worked all of the residential districts east and north of Main avenue, 75 boys bringing in a total of 20 tons of iron. Next Saturday they will finish up anything from Main avenue, south and west.

"If any of the residents in the district which was not covered wish their scrap removed who failed to get lawns before next Saturday, we'll arrange for such collections after school hours," Gordon A. Day, Scout executive, explained last night. "In such instances, we ask that my office be notified, phone 833.

"If there are any in the district already covered who failed to get

No Deferment for Federal Employes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission ruled today no occupational draft deferment of federal employes would be permitted after Oct. 6, unless the employe is "serving in a key position in essential war work or there are "equally compelling reasons" to keep him in civilian government service.

McNutt also directed the request of federal employes who wish to volunteer for military service or to accept a commission be denied if they are key workers for whom draft deferment would be asked.

FDR Speech Will Open Chest Drive

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt will open the nation's war chest and community chest campaigns in a four-network broadcast Oct. 5 from 8:30 to 9 p. m. (MWT), the National Broadcasting company announced today.

The speech will be heard over the combined networks of NBC, the Columbia Broadcasting system, the Blue Network company and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

FLASHES of LIFE

MERCER, Penn., Sept. 26 — Twenty-five prisoners at Mercer county jail are feeling the pinch of wartime rationing. Sheriff Alex Elliott announced that because of a shortage of coffee, java is being served only at breakfast, instead of twice daily.

DIFFERENT

UNION TOWNSHIP, N. J., Sept. 26—The fire engines screamed up to the 150-year-old Kent house in Vaux Hill road. Firemen jumped down—set fire to the house and watched it burn.

It was part of the township's program to get rid of old, dangerous and useless buildings. The Kent house had no plumbing, and there was nothing to salvage, said Building Inspector Fred Baumann.

PERMANENT

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26 — Mayor Howard W. Jackson, abolishing some jobs, has figured out how to make the vacancies permanent.

It is to store the idle desks in a storeroom.

"If the idle desk is allowed to remain in the office, the bureau head is constantly reminded of the vacancy, and soon someone else is setting at the desk," he explained. "But if the desk is sent to the storeroom the position is soon forgotten, and the job elimination is likely to be permanent."

PAPERS STRESS WARTIME ROLES

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Newspapers of America are going to devote a week to acquainting their readers with the multitude of activities of their free press in the war effort.

Features will stress this war role and the part a free press plays in the maintenance of democracy in this year's observance of national newspaper week, Oct. 1 to 8 inclusive.

With the slogan, "Newspapers go all out for victory," many publications will carry reproductions of the American flag on their front pages that week and will intensify their drive for increased purchases of war bonds and stamps.

This aid to the war savings program already has reached high figures, a treasury report revealed today. Free newspaper space contributed by upwards of 10,000 daily, weekly, labor, religious, farm and other newspapers, and by more than 200 monthly magazines, national weeklies and trade journals is roughly estimated by the treasury at $65,000,000.

Approximately 300,000 newspaper boys on more than 900 papers are selling war stamps, and the treasury reported that up to Sept. 10 they had sold 426,233,068 stamps and had turned over $50,000,000 to the treasury.

Promotion will be stepped up in the current national scrap drive in which newspapers assumed leadership at the request of War Production Chief Donald Nelson.

Byron Price, director of censorship, will speak to members of the New Jersey press association Oct. 5, in connection with the week's program.

Features for publication will tell the public the story of newspapers, of news coverage, pictures, news and advertising ethics and what a free press means to America.

GRAND JURY WILL STUDY TRANSPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—The nation's entire transportation industry will be scrutinized by federal grand juries in nine cities, it was reported reliably today, in what promises to be the justice department's largest anti-trust investigation thus far.

The inquiry will center around rates but informed persons who requested anonymity said it could be expected to go also into relations among the various types of transportation and agreements within segments of the industry. Intra-industry controls and pressures will be examined closely, an official said.

Passenger and freight hauling of railroads, bus and truck lines, waterways and airlines will be covered, it was understood.

The first evidence will be presented before a federal grand jury at Chicago next Thursday. Subpoenas returnable Oct. 1 have been issued for the Pennsylvania, Northwestern, Burlington and Milwaukee railroads.

Justice officials are understood to have advised the war, navy and agriculture departments and the interstate commerce commission, office of defense transportation, civil aeronautics board and office of price administration of the plans and to have received no objection.

This presumably was a step to learn whether, in the event of incidentals, requests might be made to defer prosecution until after the war.

Defenders See Chance to "Hold and Repulse" Foes From City of Stalingrad

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Sunday, Sept. 27 (AP) — Soviet troops pushed onward into German positions northwest of the smoking city of Stalingrad yesterday, the Russians announced today as the red army's official organ declared "there now is a chance to hold and repulse the fascists" who have been battering at the Volga river city for 33 days.

The midnight Soviet communique acknowledged the Germans had launched repeated counter-attacks northwest of the city, where the Russians are threatening to cut off communications, but said all these thrusts were repelled with 2,000 casualties for the enemy.

"Soviet troops succeeded in advancing somewhat," it said.

Inside the wrecked and burning city, the Russians dislodged the Germans from a number of buildings in one section, the communique said, killing about 400 officers and men.

In another action on the outskirts of the city Soviet gunners and mortar units were said to have annihilated about a battalion of German infantry. South of Stalingrad, in another fierce engagement, the communique said, 600 Germans were killed and eleven tanks destroyed.

Make No Gains

Heavy fighting also continued near Mozdok in the Caucasus, where the Germans were said to have launched five attacks without making any gains toward the Grozny oil field, main objective of the southern drive.

The communique said the Germans were continuing their attacks in the Black sea region, southeast of Novorossisk, but that here too all attacks were repulsed and "large number of enemy troops wiped out."

On the northwestern front in the area of Sinyavino other German attacks were stopped, the communique said.

German Claims

(The German communique said several communist party headquarters buildings near the Volga had been occupied by the nazis at Stalingrad and it claimed that further Soviet relief attacks "against the northern barrier erected by German and Rumanian troops" had been repelled. In both the western Caucasus and in Terek valley, the communique claimed breakthroughs.)

Reports and dispatches from every active sector—from the chilling Volkhov area east of Leningrad to the autumn leafed valley of the Don in the Caucasus—told the story of Germans halted.

In this situation the army organ, Red Star, issued its rare note of optimism for Russian fighters.

How to Achieve Victory

The newspaper warned commanders and soldiers against the old theory that because Russia is vast it could not be defeated. But it pointed out that the defensive still is held, and by developing counter-attacks, victory could be achieved.

It cited the heavy German losses, said the there were definite signs the nazis and their vassal forces were wearing out, and pointed to the coming winter and Hitler's increasing difficulty of holding the newly-occupied countries.

In Stalingrad tonight the fighting was such a melee that the German air force had switched to heavy attacks on the Volga crossings, fearing to rain more bombs on the complicated battle area in some of the bombs might wipe out the Germans' own units.

Red Star said the Germans were struggling hard to recapture "lost hills." A dispatch to the party newspaper Izvestia added that several big buildings had been cleared of Germans, but pointed out that it was difficult to eject the invaders when they had set up light cannon, trench mortars and machineguns in garrets and on roofs.

ALLIED BOMBERS SINK 1, DAMAGE TWO JAP VESSELS

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sunday, Sept. 27 (AP)—Allied air forces found Japanese ground forces in New Guinea and heavily bombed three ships in that area, sinking one of them, a communique said today.

A Japanese transport was sunk off the Tobriand islands, east of New Guinea, while an unidentified ship in the harbor at Rabaul, New Britain, received a direct hit by a 1,000-pound bomb in a low-level night attack by heavy bombers.

The three possible hits were scored on another vessel at Rabaul. Searchlight positions were machine-gunned during the attack and were finally extinguished. All allied planes returned to their bases.

The situation was reported unchanged in the Owen Stanley mountains, north of Port Moresby, main allied base in New Guinea, where some Japanese outposts were reported the previous day to have withdrawn under allied pressure.

Allied heavy bombers also attacked dispersal areas of the Japanese airdrome at Buna, invasion base on the northeast coast of New Guinea, but results could not be observed.

Three enemy bombers made a night attack on Darwin, Australia, without causing either damage or casualties.

THOROUGH SCRAP HUNT JOB NEEDED

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP) — If America's mad, extraordinarily thorough job of digging up every bit of scrap metal from homes and farms in the present drive steel men said today it may not be necessary to tap those sources again.

They explained, however, that time in the battle against the axis is of the essence, and it was absolutely essential that adequate security for the protection of lives of millions of American soldiers and sailors, that the scrap job between now and Jan. 1 be done all the vigor that can be put into it.

This explanation was made on the eve of the nation's newspapers' intensive week-end drive in many states—it is already under way in some—to bring out every bit of metal that is not now essential. Everything is started according to announcement by O. P. Duvall, general chairman of the drive.

The generals, and the organization each represents, are:

Gordon Day, Boy Scouts; Adj. Wilfred Roswall, Salvation Army; Eugene White, Twin Falls Recreation association; Mrs. A. C. Carter, McClusky health camp; Mrs. Roy Evans, Parent-Teacher association; and Mrs. W. A. Van Engelen, Camp Fire Girls.

Generals to represent the Y. W. C. and the Children's Home Finding society are yet to be appointed.

Duvall said the generals will hold their first meeting in his office in the Bank and Trust building Monday at 8 p. m.

Pre-Flight Schools Score Wins Over Major Colleges

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—The navy's pre-flight gridiron representatives recovered from surprising power and smoothness today as the nation's first war-time football season in 25 years got under way.

At Evanston, the Iowa Seahawks, coached by Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, rolled past Northwestern of the Big Ten, 20-12, with Bill Schatzer, Duke fullback, and Mal Kutner doing most of the damage. Penn, highly tiputed favorite to retain its Ivy league championship, fell before the Georgia pre-flight outfit, 14-6, finding such former pro and college stars at Frank Filchock, Charlie Timmons, Billy Patterson, Bob Foxx and Jim Poole too much to handle. Harvard took an expected beating at Cambridge from the North Carolina pre-flight school, 13-0, bowing finally to a fourth quarter surge led by Ben Fahmont, which yielded both touchdowns. A last-minute field goal gave St. Mary's pre-flight a 10-9 triumph over Oregon.

Rolling right along with the naval cadets were such collegiate standbys as Minnesota, Texas and Notre Dame. Notre Dame and Tennessee each had to swallow a bitter pill in the shape of tie scores. Notre Dame found Wisconsin, Big Ten darkhorse, plenty tough and had to be content with a 7-7 draw. Tennessee, figured as a one-touchdown contender, was held to a scoreless stalemate by South Carolina.

Bill Daley scored four touchdowns as Minnesota scored its 16th successive victory, a 50-7 rout of once powerful Pittsburgh. Texas, following on its 40-0 rout of Corpus Christi naval station, handed Kansas State a terrific 64-0 drubbing. Duke won handily from Davidson, 21-0, but looked none too impressive.

One of the minor surprises of the day was scored by William & Mary, southern conference darkhorse entry, which spilled the Naval academy's green team, 3-0, on a field goal by Harvey Johnson from the 20-yard line. Dartmouth, with a 40-0 clean backfield but uncertain line prospects, was a surprise 17-6 victor over Holy Cross, while Cornell, off to an early lead, had to hang on for the finish to whip Lafayette, 20-16. West Virginia knocked off Washington & Lee of the Southern conference, 21-7, while Colgate, Columbia and Princeton all checked in with routine triumphs over minor opposition.

Registrant Held On False Claim To Draft Board

Clyde T. Morrison, Twin Falls, was arraigned before J. O. Pumphrey, U. S. commissioner, yesterday afternoon on a charge of making false statements to Twin Falls county draft board No. 1.

He waived preliminary hearing, and was bound over to the United States district court. Bond was set at $2,500 and has not been posted late Saturday.

Arthur S. Webb, jr., special agent for the federal bureau of investigation, filed the complaint.

Flying Cross Won by Filer Man in Navy

ABOARD A FIGHTING SHIP, PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Sept. 26 (AP) —The hardest fighting is ahead, Vice-Admiral William F. Halsey said today at a presentation of awards for heroism. Eighteen navy crosses and 18 distinguished flying crosses were given.

"You have won your honors in the battle of the Coral sea and the Midway operations which have demonstrated the superiority of our fleet air arm over that of the enemy," Admiral Halsey told the men.

"Many of you were under fire for the first time. Yet each of you did a job—in many cases against heavy odds—with a cool courage that proved you are better fighting men."

Among those receiving navy crosses were Lt. Gordon A. Sherwood of Salt Lake City and Ensign Roy M. Isaman of Wilson, Ida.

Recipients of distinguished flying crosses included Jack A. Shropshire of Filer, Ida.

CHEST NAMES SIX DRIVE 'GENERALS'

Six of the eight generals to serve in the Community Chest campaign beginning Oct. 6 were appointed by Dan Hight, according to announcement by O. P. Duvall, general chairman of the drive.

The generals, and the organization each represents, are:

Gordon Day, Boy Scouts; Adj. Wilfred Roswall, Salvation Army; Eugene White, Twin Falls Recreation association; Mrs. A. C. Carter, McClusky health camp; Mrs. Roy Evans, Parent-Teacher association; and Mrs. W. A. Van Engelen, Camp Fire Girls.

Generals to represent the Y. W. C. and the Children's Home Finding society are yet to be appointed.

OSLO IN VIRTUAL STATE OF SIEGE AFTER RAF BOMBARDING

PATRIOTS SPREAD FIRE AND HAVOC

By ERNEST AGNEW

LONDON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Norway's German-occupied capital of Oslo was reported tonight on the verge of a state of siege after Norwegian patriots and RAF bombers had combined to spread fire and havoc in the elaborate settings of a convention of the Quisling nazi puppet party.

Free Norwegian reports from Sweden said the patriots had smashed into the Bislep sports stadium in advance of a Quisling parade, burned stacks of the Quisling paper, "Fritt Folk" and damaged some buildings by fire. Numerous street fights also were reported as the result of distribution of leaflets urging Norwegians to boycott Quisling youth parades.

Vidkun Quisling, fuming with rage following disruption of his convention Friday by four RAF planes which dropped bombs from 100 feet on gestapo buildings, declared during a reorganized meeting today:

"Murder Planes"

"Now they are sending murder planes to Oslo!"

He claimed the victims were "ordinary people" and that the raid was directed against the Norwegian Nasjonal Samling (nazi) party, not against German troops. Forty persons were killed and 40 wounded, he said.

Reports through underground Norwegian sources said Quisling personally led the dash to the cellars, elbowing his way through the throng with his bodyguards.

After the alleged sounded Quisling and the Germans emerged from their shelters, while the police busied themselves rounding up Norwegians who vicled regulations by not taking shelter. Some of these Norwegians had even gone to housetops to wave to the bombers, the reports said.

Panic Reported

The Norwegians also said panic broke out among the more than 100,000 Germans evacuated from bombed German cities and now living in Oslo.

The air ministry news service said the raid on Oslo was carried out in bright sunshine by a flight of four mosquito planes, the new British-manufactured twin-engined light bomber which is still on the secret list.

In the first British mention of them the news service said mosquitoes are now in service with the bomber command. No details were given but an idea of the speed of the plane was indicated in the report by one pilot who said that three of the planes eluded a flight of German's newest and fastest fighter, the F-W 190.

BEANS

One of the early high yields reported on red beans from the west end was the 294 bushels threshed from four acres by T. E. Howard, for an average of 73.5 bushels to the acre. Howard lives on a 40 and one-half miles southeast of Buhl. He had 18 more acres of beans to thresh.

Alfonso Ralph, shoe shiner and all-out baseball fan, buttonholing all who might know how Brooklyn and St. Louis came out . . . Two men and a woman mailing letters in trash box on Main, then frantically digging into the trash to recover letters . . . Yeoman Ernest Termunde pasting clipping from Pot Shots (that one about romance) in his scrap book . . . Flood of pedestrians surging into downtown intersection with green light, and thereby stalling autoist in mid-intersection, blocking traffic to 'a fare-you-well . . . Senate Nominee Glen Taylor's sound-equipped motor car parked downtown . . . And woman writing letter at post-office, with her small baby lying on the writing desk (baby behaving nicely, too).

SERVICE TEAMS SCORE VICTORIES

(From Page One)

Fordham moved into the mid-west and, trimpled Purdue, 14-7. Michigan outscored Great Lakes naval training station, 9-0, despite the fact the Wolverines were badly outmanned. Iowa finally broke its Nebraska jinx and routed the Huskers, 27-0 as Tommy Farmer tossed three touchdown passes and set up the fourth Hawkeye touchdown as well. Ohio State, Illinois and Indiana all ran up big scores on minor opposition.

Missouri Wins

Missouri, the Big Six champion, had no troubles with St. Louis university, 38-7, but Oklahoma got no better than a scoreless draw with Oklahoma A. and M. Kansas bowed to Marquette, 14-0. In the southwest, Southern Methodist and Arkansas each scored handily over tune-up opponents.

Georgia Tech won its first southeastern test, routing Auburn, 15-0, as sophomore Eddie Prokop and freshman clint Castleberry led the engineers' attack. In the Southern conference, North Carolina stopped Wake Forest, 6-0, while Clemson and Virginia Military played a scoreless tie. Clark Shaughnessy's Maryland outfit made its first start and whipped Connecticut, 34-0.

Crowds Smaller

It is much too early to draw any sound conclusions as to what effect war-time conditions, especially transportation, will have on football crowds. However, crowds in general seemed much smaller than usual. For example, Penn, Ohio State and Michigan annually are among the top elevens in the country in drawing power yet played to a joint total of 75,000 today. Only 17,987 saw the Michigan game, the smallest crowd in 11 years.

The far western program was marred by one major surprise when Tulane's Green Wave invaded Los Angeles and smashed Southern California into decisive defeat, 27-13. California, picked by some experts to take the coast conference crown, eked out a 6-0 decision over St. Mary's, and Washington State upset Stanford by the same score. Oregon State, Rose bowl championships, buried Idaho 32-0, Washington won from College of Pacific, 27-0, and Santa Clara took Utah's measure, 12-0.

TWO KILLED IN ACCIDENT

BOISE, Sept. 26 (AP)—Sgt. Robert L. Cook, 21, stationed at Boise barracks, and Mrs. Ethel M. Gealy, 41, of Boise, were killed today when their automobile and an eastbound Union Pacific passenger train collided.

their scrap metal out in time for collection, we'll also pick it up if they'll let us know when it's ready. We're willing to keep working as long as any scrap metal remains in the city, but it will make our job much easier if everyone will round up his scrap iron and steel as quickly as possible."

Meantime a Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce committee, headed by E. S. Harper, is making a thorough survey of the city's business and industrial districts, to determine where and in what amounts scrap metal is available. When the survey has been completed, arrangements will also be made for collection in these districts.

Pupils Gather Iron

At Filer Friday nearly a hundred pupils of the fourth to eighth grades, inclusive, brought scrap iron from every nook and cranny of the town to amass a total of nine tons, according to William Bunce of the Filer Elevator company. The youngsters worked under the direction of Supt. Ernest Ragland, who offered as them purchase defense stamps with revenue from the iron and divide the stamps. However, they voted to give the money to the American Legion at Filer to apply on construction of a hall.

The Filer Legion post was planning to conduct a drive itself today, under the direction of L. A. Winkle, for considerable tonnage known to be awaiting pickup in the territory around Filer, and already promised to the Legion. Filer reported a total of about 10 tons last night.

20 Tons at Buhl

Buhl last night reported 20 tons of iron brought in yesterday, after about the same amount the day before, which opened the drive. The Buhl depot received a total of 70 tons during the week. Two groups of youths at Buhl accounted for a good share of the total. They were the Future Farmers of America, under the direction of Leslie Jackson, and the Boy Scouts, under the direction of John Barker.

The Kimberly depot last night reported 15 tons of scrap collected, but said its total was cut down considerably by the bean harvest. It was said a great deal more scrap was in sight in this locality which would be brought in as soon as farmers could spare the time.

The Murtaugh depot was another which reported feeling effect of the bean harvest in collections. One ton had been received, and between eight and nine tons was in sight for quick collection.

Collection officials last night were particularly stressing the necessity of getting the scrap into the depots as early as possible.

"The scarcity of scrap iron is actually slowing production in steel mills working on war orders," one of those in charge of the drive. "Steel production cannot be accurately planned until government authorities know how much scrap iron is available. Don't let anything delay bringing in the scrap."

Truck Driver, 19, Fined for Crash

Denzel R. Satterwhite, 19, Hansen, paid a fine of $25 yesterday in the court of Justice of the Peace J. E. Ogg, Kimberly, after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving signed by Virgil K. Barron, state policeman.

Satterwhite was driving a one and a half ton truck leased by the Morrison-Knudsen Construction company at Hunt, Barron said, and failed to keep on the highway at the turn immediately east of Kimberly because of excessive speed. The truck went into the borrow pit along the road, and struck a concrete siphon head before regaining the roadway. The heavy obstacle did an estimated $300 damage to the transmission and underpart of the truck, including one tire blown out.

Satterwhite was represented in court by W. L. Dunn.

Red Cross to Serve "Vols" Canteen Meal

What's a "canteen style" meal?

Eight women will give a demonstration in "emergency feeding" Monday at 6:30 p. m. at the city park.

Forty-five or more members of the Jaycee volunteer reserve, company No. 8, and as many others of the 6 p. m. Monday men as feel hungry at the dinner hour, will be the "guinea pigs" for the mass feeding.

The women, members of the first Red Cross canteen corps to be organized in Twin Falls county, will "work against time," and use their imaginations, if need be, to believe it's an emergency—feeding nearly 100 men with "four hours to prepare."

Under direction of Mrs. Howard J. Larsen, chairman of the day, the eight women will work in relays. The cooks will report at 2:30 p. m. at the Methodist church, where the dinner will be prepared.

The next crew will come at 4:30 4:30 to prepare the dessert and salads, and the others will arrive at 5:30 p. m. to help with the last minute preparations.

When the call to "come and get it" is issued, the food will be served from a truck, canteen style, drawn up at the city park to feed the "hungry horde."

What'll there be to eat? Mrs. H. H. Tanner, the canteen corps chairman, didn't say it was a military secret, so here goes:

There'll be meat loaf and escalloped potatoes; string beans and green salad, coffee AND dessert.

Were you thinking a canteen meal meant beans out of a tin can, and "hard tack" on the side?

Incidentally, Capt. John Q. Adams, commanding officer of company 8, the Jaycee volunteer unit announced that his company will drill immediately after the canteen dinner. The reserves are scheduled to take up skirmishing tactics under tutelage of one or more non-commissioned officers of the military police company at Hunt.

Engineers on Visit

Merrill K. Puckett and Bill Pohlman, both of Twin Falls, and Delbert Stock, all members of the U. S. corps of engineers, returned Friday for a brief visit between jobs in Alaska. All are former state highway department employes, and went to Alaska in May. The nature of their work is a military secret, but it is in a spot so inaccessible that they are flown in to the location.

Now Sergeant

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Massey, Twin Falls, have received word from their son, Harold G. Massey, who has just completed a six weeks' course in mechanics at Los Angeles, has returned to the air base at Santa Ana, Calif., where he has been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant in the school squadron. He received his first mechanical training from Lionel Dean, Twin Falls, in 1934-35.

CRASH KILLS MAN, INJURES 2 WOMEN

BURLEY, Sept. 26—Funeral services were being completed today for H. H. Carlos, 62, owner of a service station and auto court at Burley, who was killed instantly Thursday night six miles east of Declo.

The car in which he was returning from Logan, Utah, smashed into a truck driven by Clarence Barrett, 24, Malta, at approximately 11 p. m. With him were his wife, who sustained severe shock, cuts, bruises and a broken shoulder, and Mrs. Marriani May, also of Burley, who sustained an injured back, cuts and bruises.

Women Recovering

Mrs. Carlos was in a "fair" condition last night, according to attendants at the Cottage hospital, where she was taken for treatment following the accident. They reported Mrs. May's condition as "improving satisfactorily."

Neither Barrett nor his two young companions, Miss Velda Hutchinson and Miss Marjorie Hastings, also of Malta, were injured.

Carlos apparently became blinded by the lights of the approaching truck, according to the investigating officers, W. W. Williams, deputy sheriff; Milton Reeves, state policeman, and Clarence Phillips, chief of police, Burley.

The Carlos machine hit the middle of the truck, causing his auto to swerve about 80 feet before it turned over and rolled another 80 feet, according to the investigating officers.

Longtime Resident

Mr. Carlos, onetime employe of the Amalgamated Sugar company at Blackfoot, came to Cassia county 22 years ago, engaging in farming and livestock growing until nine years ago, when he entered the service station and auto court business.

He was born May 4, 1880, at Layton, Utah. Mr. Carlos was a member of the Latter Day Saints church. The body lies at the Payne mortuary.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lizetta Adams Carlos, and the following sons and daughters:

Lloyd H. Carlos, Milton A. Carlos, Mrs. E. J. Buschalla, Miss Hazel Carlos, Crockett, Calif.; Arvil Carlos, San Francisco; D. G. Carlos, Spokane, Wash.; Jean Carlos, Burley.

Hulbert Promoted To Post at Boise

Vern E. Hulbert, agent for Consolidated Freightways here for seven years, left yesterday for Boise where he will take over the position of agent for the company.

Promotion of Mr. Hulbert, Consolidated officials said, brings back a Twin Falls man to the agent's post here. He is Gene Stimson, who has been with the Boise agency of Consolidated.

Accompanying Mr. Hulbert to Boise were his wife and small daughter. A son, Mel, prominent Twin Falls high school athlete, is attending University of Idaho, southern branch, this year. Another daughter, now Mrs. Claude Brown, jr., remains in Twin Falls.

THE BLACK FLAG FLIES

The tenth traffic death in Magic Valley for 1942 occurred Sept. 24 in Cassia county.

Civilian Fire Group Checks Range Flames

A range fire southwest of Murtaugh Friday night that blackened an area of two square miles before it was brought under control demonstrated the efficiency of the auxiliary fire fighting division of the Twin Falls county civilian defense organization.

John Savage, farmer living in the neighborhood six miles southwest of Murtaugh, reported the fire to the sheriff's office here, and then put his own previously arranged fire fighting plans into operation. The call to Twin Falls was answered by V. W. Barron, state policeman; Ed Hall, deputy sheriff, and O. H. Coleman, city councilman and chief of the auxiliary fire fighters in the civilian defense unit.

When the officers arrived from Twin Falls the community organization set up for fire protection under civilian defense had brought the fire under control. Savage had hastily rounded up the necessary help, and men working furiously with shovels had removed or covered the flammable vegetation in an area approximately two and one-fourth miles long and one and one-fourth miles wide. To make doubly certain of controlling the blaze, Savage then sent a road maintainer across the path of the flames to throw up a dirt fire wall.

"The civilian defense fire fighting organization was really on the job," said Barron, "and undoubtedly greatly reduced the damage of the blaze by prompt action."

Four youths laying out private airplane runways on the smooth, level area *admitted accidentally start*ing the blaze, Barron reported. They were Forest Bates, 18, and Lavelle Bates, 16, who are brothers, and Kenneth Lee and Dick Biel, whose ages were not learned. Barron said the four youths were among the most active of the volunteers workers who helped to extinguish the blaze.

Barron said the area on which the fire occurred had once been cleared of brush for dry farming. There was a scattering of sagebrush in the path of the flames, he said, but grass was the principal combustible.

Apple peel has a vitamin C content three to five times that of the apple flesh.

Toler Will Soon Be Back on Duty

Pvt. Gaylord Toler, who has been receiving treatment for middle ear infection at the United States naval hospital at Balboa island the past several weeks, has been told by physicians that he will soon be back on duty, he wrote to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Toler, last week.

He was stationed with the United States marines at North island marine base before he became a hospital patient.

HEIRESS DIES IN 25-STORY JUMP

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (UP)—Adelaide Reckford, 40-year-old daughter of the founder of the American Pencil company, jumped or fell to her death today from a window in a hotel where she had registered under an assumed name while a nine-state search for her was underway.

The body was found on a fourth floor extension, 25 stories below the room she took at the Barbizon-Plaza hotel last Wednesday midnight as Adelaide Hellen Barton." There was a note bearing her real name clutched in her hand and in her room police found three other notes.

One of them, addressed to a cousin, Dr. Richard Lewisohn, said "the window will tell the story" and begged forgiveness.

Another note, containing $16 to pay for her bill, apologized to the hotel management for any inconvenience. Still another note was addressed to the chamber maid again regretting any "mess or trouble." A tip to the maid was enclosed.

Dr. Lewisohn later identified the body as that of Miss Reckford. His son, Richard Lewisohn, jr., said he knew of no reason why the heiress should have wanted to take her life.

Cassia Implement Chairman Chosen

BURLEY, Sept. 26—H. A. Shaw, jr., Malta, chairman of the Cassia county AAA committee, has been named chairman of the county's farm machinery rationing board. Other members are Charles H. Powell, Burley, and Levi Draney, Burley, while their alternates are Ezra Bingham and H. E. Bidgood, both of Burley.

The appointments were made by the county USDA war board.

Sheep Pool Friday

The Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing association will hold its first sheep pool in more than a month on Friday of this week, County Agent Ben Bollingbroke announced yesterday.

He said that the farmers can bring in lambs, ewes or any sheep that they desire for market.

Bullets for Tokyo to Avenge Missing Son

There is determination in both the face and voice of Mrs. Dave Hatch, Filer, as she throws an old motor car wheel onto the already sizable pile of scrap iron at Filer. "I hope this one gets dropped on Tokyo," she says, thinking of the sailor son reported missing in action on June 24. Mrs. Hatch is finance officer of the Navy Mothers club at Filer. (Staff Photo-engraving)

Mother of Missing Navy Son Typifies Spirit of Home Front

By MERVIN SHOEMAKER

The temper of the mothers of America—that's one of the factors which will keep Hitler and Hirohito forever twisting their timetables backward. And that's one of the most important factors in the scrap iron collection drive which started Friday. A mother with a son in the service has a compelling interest in the success of the campaign.

For example, there is Mrs. Dave Hatch, Filer, the mother of Carl Creamer, 21, ordinanceman second class in the U. S. navy. Carl was graduated from the Filer high school in 1939, and she has a couple of school letters as mementoes of his basketball career. In September, 1940, more than a year before war was declared, he enlisted in the navy and went into aviation ordnance.

Last June 24 he was reported "missing in action" in one of the more prominent theaters of the war, and his mother has heard nothing from him since that time.

Mrs. Hatch believes Carl is alive and that she will hear from him eventually, but she has a deep resentment toward those responsible for the whole business, which accentuates her natural patriotism. Her determination shows in her face when she talks about the various jobs to be done on the home front while the fighting men engage the enemy in the far corners of the earth.

"I hope everyone will cooperate in the scrap iron campaign to the point of sacrifice," she said yesterday. "The boys at war need the iron a lot worse than we do in most cases. We will be failing to back them up if we don't do our best to help."

All the scrap iron the Hatches could find about their place in Filer has gone onto the pile in the yard of the Filer Elevator company.

Mrs. Hatch, the wife of Dave Hatch, Filer water superintendent and constable, is finance officer of the Filer Navy Mothers club. She is employed as an inspector by the Associated Seed company.

Hansen Students Select Officers

HANSEN, Sept. 26 — Dorothy Tyson has been chosen president of the student body of the high school. Other officers elected were Jim Foster, vice-president; Carol Sanderson, secretary-treasurer; and Betty Copsey, business manager. Class elections are as follows:

Seniors — President, LaRae Young; vice-president, Jack Brown; secretary, Velda Humm, and treasurer, Marvin Diter.

Junior — President, Eileen Tysor; vice-president, Roland Arment; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Walker.

Sophomores — President, Lester Smith; vice-president, Thelma McFarland; secretary-treasurer, Kenneth Howell.

Freshmen — President, Galen McMaster; vice-president, Marion Bailey, and secretary-treasurer, Irene Shobe.

The school has decided to publish a newspaper and is conducting a contest to select a name.

The staff will include: Editor, Marjorie Rambo, and her assistant editor is Dorothy Walker. Two reporters will be selected from each class.

The first assembly was held with the Mississippi Jubilee presenting a program. Several parents attended.

FARM TIRE NEED EXCEEDS RATIONS

The rationing of automobile and truck tires is getting to be a very serious matter, now that harvest season is on, according to Carl N. Anderson, chairman of the county rationing board.

He revealed that the board had requests for 112 recapping permits Friday and had only four permits left to issue.

"We have been trying to save tire, tube and recapping permits for the farmers but now we're completely out and have little hope of getting more before the October quota is issued," Anderson said.

A permit to purchase a new automobile was issued yesterday to Harley Dayton Jennet, manager of the Twin Falls Concrete Pipe company. He said his old car had been operated for 77,800 miles.

Truck Overturns; Northsider Hurt

JEROME, Sept. 26—Sam Hansen, Jerome resident, is expected to return home within a few days from St. Valentine's hospital, Wendell, to convalesce from a broken collarbone and numerous cuts and bruises.

Hansen was pinned under a heavily loaded gravel truck he was driving when it overturned five and a half miles north of Jerome early Thursday morning. The steering gear of the truck refused to function properly, causing him to lose control.

A threshing crew extracted him from beneath the truck and the Wiley ambulance rushed the injured man to the Wendell hospital.

Send that boy in the service

A LETTER from HOME

This condensed news-letter prepared by Detweiler's may be clipped, inserted in an envelope and mailed to your boy in the service. It's an aid to aid you in a patriotic duty.

DEAR _____, Sept. 27, 1942

Idaho

● There's no doubt of the biggest news of the week on the home front for this letter—it's the Scrap Drive which is taking place here in Twin Falls county and other Magic Valley communities. Householders are being urged to dig into basements, seek in the attics, look in the barn lots and in general search out all the scrap they can! And the communities are jumping into the search with a willingness that means you fellows are going to have guns to shoot, airplanes to fly and battleships to man, Detweiler's—at the start of the drive—summed it all up with an ad in which they urged the people to get in the scrap and used their famous catch line to a good advantage: "Everything to Make Living More Pleasant—but NOT FOR TOJO OR ADOLPH."

● You can't beat American willingness to get into a fight the best way they can.

● And so here we go acting as a clearing house on news of you fellows in the service—and once again, if you have any messages for us, we'll appreciate receiving them to add to the newsworthiness of this letter.

● Pvt. Robert Barton, stationed at Hunters Field, Savannah, Ga., has been visiting his folks in Wendell. Miss Marjorie Johnston, Twin Falls, and her parents recently traveled to Los Angeles to complete plans for her marriage soon to Lieut. R. C. Ashenbrener, Nampa. The lieutenant is an instructor at Williams Field, Chandler, Arizona.

● John W. Plummer, Filer, is receiving training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Erhard R. Pufall, Buhl, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the signal corps. Sgt. Bob Patton, former Twin Falls high school football star, returned home last week and was featured speaker at a student assembly in the high school. There's a new army officer in the person of Lieut. Wilma Reuter, formerly since he's been commissioned at Aberdeen, Md. He leaves shortly for San Francisco.

● And we're also read of the activities of Capt. Paul H. Carlson, T. F. high school graduate of 1918 who occupies an important post in the ordinance district headquarters in an eastern city. Three Buhl soldiers rang the bell with V-letters to their folks. The letters were received from Guadalcanal Island, and one other thinly disguised location "where people drink tea." Pvt. Jimmie Bradshaw, Cecil Reed, Corp. Clarence Kyle sent the letters.

● The Lee family in Burley has heard from their son, T. Bailey Lee, jr., who is now a prisoner in Shanghai. He states he is well and looks forward to the day when he can return home and shout, "Plug in the alley, here I come!" And I'm sure his folks as well as every Magic Valley family looks forward to the same moment. Another Shanghai captive has communicated with his parents: Cecil Bowyer, Twin Falls. And another family was happier.

● Dale C. Knight, Burley, has enlisted in the army. Lewis Young, Gooding, has cablegrammed his parents that he has arrived at an undisclosed army station abroad. Reed and Floyd Merrill were entertained at their home in Paul before Reed leaves for the army. Helen Whitsell, Twin Falls, has volunteered for nursing duty overseas. For the last three years she has been nurse at Albion Normal School.

● We may have neglected the animal department of this letter for sometime, but the fact remains that animals just haven't been in the limelight in the news. But this week, we've hit the jackpot with the report that out here in "desert" country anything can happen. Billy Dias, S. Castleford, is the proud owner of a foot-long alligator sent him by his uncle Orville Minturn, stationed with the army at Miami, Fla. The alligator has been relegated to a special tub in Billy's home, thus still holding out the possibility of the Saturday night bath for the youngster.

● Clinton D. Morgan, Declo, has been graduated from officers training school in Georgia and is now stationed at Fort Leonard Wood.

● Most of us are looking over local stocks for selections of Christmas presents for you gents in service in the United States and abroad. We understand we ought to get our packages in the mail NOW! This ought to be the greatest and mailingest Christmas ever.

● The WAACS have recognized with commissions the following Magic Valley women: Bessie M. Dunning, Twin Falls, and Ida Mae Ross, Burley.

● Jack Osgood, Jerome, former Twin Falls high school student and University of Idaho graduate, has received the commission of Captain in the army air corps. His brother is also with the armed forces, being stationed at Treasure Island.

● And if we haven't told you before, Joe Mendiola, captured on Wake, has written his folks here. He also spoke of Bud Kimes and Frank Drake. Unable, probably, to make any specific reference to their situation, he asked if they had been, heard from and suggested that: " . . . they are as healthy as when I last saw them." It brought a ray of sunshine to Drake and Kimes homes, since they now feel there is the possibility the boys may have been separated and that both Bud and Frank are stationed elsewhere. Mendiola wrote from Shanghai.

● "Larry" Hodgin, who many of you remember as an attorney here in Twin Falls and who has since been in Seattle with an official position in the Northern Life Insurance Co., has received his commission in the army as a Captain with M. P. duties. He is a veteran of World War I.

● Well, not all the ammunition in Magic Valley will be shot at pheasants and ducks this year. The Junior Chamber of Commerce of Twin Falls has authorized the purchase of two cases of shells for the use in emergency of their Idaho Volunteer Reserve outfit, Company G, and each member of the company has voluntarily set aside at least a couple of boxes of ammunition for emergency use.

● Indian summer is here—the days are warm and bright as they always are in the fall, though I suspect that there will be a good deal less hunting this year. First, because many of you, our first line hunters, have got other jobs to do—and second, because many of us here at home have other duties this year, too! Several deer hunts are in progress throughout the country and many of the fellows are having a tough time securing proper loads for their rifles. Curiously, duck season opens ahead of pheasant season this year, but I imagine there'll be little real duck shooting until the much colder weather sets in.

● Once again, I wish you the best of luck in every undertaking and please remember that we are doing everything we can here at home through scrap hunting, bond buying and rationing to make this war a success and hurry your trip home. Of course, you fellows hold the real key to the situation, but we do everything we can!

● Detweiler's again ask you to drop them a line—just a card—to let them know you are receiving this news-letter—and maybe YOU can bolster up THEIR morale. I understand business men are having their troubles too these war-torn days. See you again, soon!

THE ABOVE NEWS LETTER MAY BE CLIPPED AND MAILED TO YOUR SOLDIER, SAILOR, MARINE, COAST GUARD OR DEFENSE WORKER AS A THUMB-NAIL SKETCH OF THE DOINGS HERE IN MAGIC VALLEY

"What happens when I join the NAVY?"

Thousands of men—17 to 50—are asking this question. They're red-blooded Americans, men who want to get in and fight for their country. "Just tell us what to do!" they ask. Okay—here's the answer. First, have a friendly chat with the Officer in Charge at any Navy Recruiting Station. Here are some of the things he'll tell you...

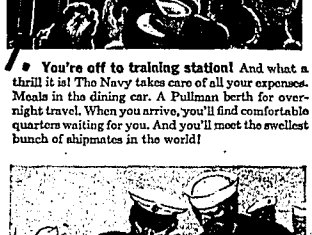

1. You're off to training station! And what a thrill it is! The Navy takes care of all your expenses. Meals in the dining car. A Pullman berth for overnight travel. When you arrive, you'll find comfortable quarters waiting for you. And you'll meet the swellest bunch of shipmates in the world!

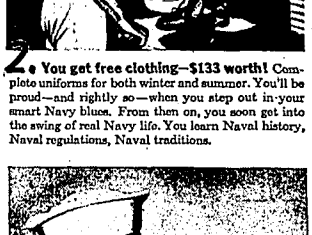

2. You get free clothing—$133 worth! Complete uniforms for both winter and summer. You'll be proud—and rightly so—when you step out in your smart Navy blues. From then on, you soon get into the swing of real Navy life. You learn Naval history, Naval regulations, Naval traditions.

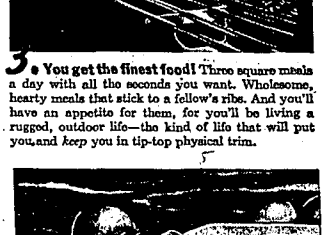

3. You get the finest food! Three square meals a day with all the seconds you want. Wholesome, hearty meals that stick to a fellow's ribs. And you'll have an appetite for them, for you'll be living a rugged, outdoor life—the kind of life that will put you, and keep you in tip-top physical trim.

4. You're trained for a trade! If you qualify, you go to one of the great Navy trade schools. Here you get expert training worth $1500 in your chosen field—radio, aviation, engineering, electricity, photography, telegraphy, welding—or any of 49 skilled trades. Whatever your specialty, Navy training fits you to do a better job now—and after the war.

5. You get good pay, quick promotion! After approximately two months' service, upon completion of recruit training, you get a raise in pay. By the end of your first enlistment, you can be making up to $138 a month, plus allowances. And remember, your pay is all yours, because your meals, quarters, clothing, medical and dental care are free!

6. You get action, travel, adventure! You go places, meet people in the Navy. And you do big things for your country. Deeds of courage and heroism. Deeds that are writing history. The kind of deeds that are making the U.S. Navy the finest on the seas. Here's your chance for real service. Take it now while you still have time to choose!

FREE NAVY BOOK TELLS WHOLE STORY

HERE IN ONE EXCITING BOOK you can get all the details that will help you decide what to do for your country—for yourself. This book gives you all the facts you want to know about the Navy. It pictures the life you'll lead, the ships you may serve on. It describes the pay you will get, the promotions you can win, the skilled trades you may learn. Covers all the requirements you must meet. Get your personal copy of this free book before it is too late. Just ask at your nearest Navy Recruiting Station for "Men Make the Navy." Do it today!

PRAISE FOR THE NEWSPAPERS

The part newspapers have played in the war effort, particularly their present all-out campaign to round up scrap metal that's needed for the manufacture of munitions, has prompted President Roosevelt and seven cabinet members to voice expressions of confidence in the American free press.

"After 10 months of war, the observance of National Newspaper week (Oct. 1-8) affords an opportunity to rededicate ourselves to the freedom that is as vital to us as our daily bread—the freedom to think and speak and write the truth as we see it," said the chief executive.

"Our free press has not only survived—it is an essential part of the steadying ballast which enables our ships to ride to storm.

"War imposed grave new responsibilities on all of us, but upon no public servant does the responsibility for truth and integrity rest more heavily than upon the press. Theirs is the duty of keeping the people fully and truly informed. Their correspondents are braving enemy fire to send back the story of far-off battles. Their editors and publishers are deeply aware of their responsibility for the faithful presentation of the news.

"The American people are vigilant of their precious heritage of a free press. They will permit neither its corruption nor its perversion to selfish ends. They will continue to regard it as their strong right hand in war as in peace. I believe that their confidence will be justified."

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said that because newspapers had reported the news as completely as it could be printed within the limits of national safety "they have checkmated enemy propaganda intended to demoralize and mislead our people."

Naturally, the newspapers will appreciate these expressions. Coming from key men in an administration that has been none too friendly to the American press, such tributes are all the more significant.

Irrespective of what they as individuals may think of the newspapers, no one appreciates better than officials high in government offices themselves, how heavily they must lean upon the American press for support when the nation as a whole faces an emergency. By the same token, the American newspapers, irrespective of what they may think of individuals in government, must not violate their fundamental responsibility.

Government officials, politicians, or newspapers—our country should always come first.

WARNING TO DEER HUNTERS

With the deer hunt which starts in Minidoka national forest next Wednesday should come the warning for sportsmen to be on their guard against any carelessness that might result in a serious fire.

The hundreds of hunters who will enter the forest should bear in mind that fire in any form—matches, cigarets, cigars and campfires—is exceedingly dangerous at this time of year when the grasses, brush and trees are unusually dry.

Considering the possibility of wiping out the forest, destroying game, or even taking human life, there is ample reason for every precaution with fire.

Be sure that match is out before you toss it away. Pinch that burning cigaret until it's reduced to bits. Tramp that hot cigar butt until there's nothing left. Drown that smouldering campfire—and then drown it again! And if you see any sign of a fire that may look suspicious, report it to the nearest ranger immediately.

The forest service wants the sportsmen to enjoy their hunt, as well as to reduce an over-supply of game, but it also expects these sportsmen to respect the timber.

We should show our appreciation for being allowed to hunt under present conditions. In Oregon, where the game commission has ordered the entire state closed to hunting and fishing because of the fire hazard, the sportsmen are not so fortunate.

HEROES

Raw courage becomes so commonplace in war time that we get to be a bit indiscriminating about it. We are inclined to give least credit where most is due—to salute the hero who performs some spectacular act in the heat of battle, and fail to appreciate the even greater courage of such men as the two carpenters who went down with the Yorktown.

Trapped five decks below the flight deck where they could not be reached, they accepted their fate stoically. "We know you can't get us out," they said, "but we got a helluva good acey-ducey game going on down here right now. We don't want it to last long."

Don't think those men weren't frightened. Don't imagine they didn't want to live as much as any of us do. Death held full terrors for them. But they were men—the sort of men that some of our most feted heroes secretly envy.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

RAY TUCKER

PROTESTS—Treasury decision No. 5,000 is presumed to regulate and restrict the profits of war contractors. But this seemingly innocuous document packs more New Deal dynamite than better-advertised Roosevelt reforms.

According to its provisions no official of a corporation dealing with the government may include salaries above $25,000 a year in his estimates of costs. Numerous executives in firms devoted exclusively to turning out weapons receive $100,000 or more and their records prove they deserve such rewards. But in figuring on a federal job concerns must eliminate from their computation any money above the maximum fixed by the President as a man's worth in industry.

There is an even more drastic prohibition in this same unpublicized decree. Mr. Roosevelt's inspectors can walk into plants working for Uncle Sam—and most of them eventually will be—examine its books and decide that an individual's remuneration must be reduced arbitrarily. It matters not whether the owners think their employe should be paid more. Final judgment on that little matter rests with the agents from Washington.

F. D. R. has tried for years to persuade congress to set a statutory ceiling of $25,000, or one-third of his own pay. His last demand appeared in his message naming Oct. 1 as deadline for the anti-inflation bill. Legislators have repeatedly spiked this move. But now he is gaining his ends by indirection.

Ordinarily conservative army-navy officers are hardboiled in enforcing the flint of their commander-in-chief. When a manufacturer protests and intimates that he might decline orders framed on this basis, they retort, "Oh, yeah? Well, suppose we deny you priorities and cut off your material for the duration!"

BEGGARS—Because of this decision and other technical rulings which have escaped general attention, profits melt to nothing. Here is the detailed story of a contract now under controversial discussion between the navy department and a firm.

The agreed price for the work amounted to $230,000. On the basis of a 10 per cent maximum gross gain the businessman makes $23,000. But the minimum corporate tax rate under consideration by house-senate framers of the pending revenue bill is 80 per cent. (It may go as high as 90.) Under the lower levy the contractor will wind up with a net of only $4,600. And, as he told government officials, a single unnecessary practice can waste or spoil $5,000 worth of material in a few months. That loss, incidentally, is not deductible.

But that isn't the worst of it. By means of a proviso slipped into an appropriation bill when nobody was looking, federal agencies have the right to "renegotiate" or "redetermine" contracts until three years after the end of hostilities. Not until then will many industrialists know whether they have made or dropped money in these wartime transactions. Uncle Sam's representatives may disallow many items of cost which seemed legitimate to the bidder when he submitted his offer years earlier. Objectors assert this conflict will produce more beggars than profiteers.

SHOWDOWN—Add the national war service act to the list of essential measures which will not be pressed by the White House for passage until after the next election. The votes have been counted Nov. 3. It has taken its place on the shelf along with the revenue bill, the proposal to draft youths in their teens, prospective requisitioning of tires, rationing of food and nationwide restrictions on gasoline.

Executive session testimony before the Tolan subcommittee, as revealed in Whirligig has shown the extreme reluctance of important legitimate industrial witness, including Brigadier General Hershey, Federal Security Administrator McNutt and production boss Nelson, has admitted that a more exact selective process must be established in order to obtain men for the armed forces and industry. A proper and uniform system of deferment must be created, in their opinion.

But the committee members have decided that no new law is required. The existing statute is clear. It not care to assume responsibility for freezing a man to his present job and preventing him from bettering himself. Therefore they prefer to permit the administration to initiate action. President Roosevelt has been playing with a proposition of this sort since before Pearl Harbor, but they are unwilling to stage a showdown now. Senator Elster Hill's (D., Ala.) somewhat cynical scheme appears to be a trial balloon rather than a serious effort to solve this vital problem.

AFFAIR—W. Lee O'Daniel ("Pass the biscuits, pappy") is supposed to be a flaming prohibitionist. But certain canny dry leaders are puzzled by his latest gesture on behalf of their cause.

A few days ago the Democratic senator from Texas rose to enlighten his wicked colleagues on the wartime growth of anti-drinking sentiment. Speaking in favor of senate bill 860, which would forbid the sale of alcoholic beverages in the vicinity of army or navy camps, he asserted, "The deplorable conditions existing around military establishments and defense plants are constantly being brought to my attention." Then, with pride in his musical voice, he presented proof of his warning about the popular revolt.

The proof consisted of a petition containing only 277,733 names, of which 250,000 were provided by residents of Dayton, Ohio, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and North Carolina. The signers were distributed among 25 states and 140 cities and towns near the localities listed were Appomattox, Va., 151; Sandwich, Ill., 27; Uvalde, Tex., 40, and Weeping Water Neb.

The "Pappy's" ground swell appears to be a rather exclusive affair.

Other Points of View

THE WAR COMING CLOSER TO HOME

We have often heard the criticism that the people here and elsewhere are too complacent, that they have shown or are showing little interest in the war effort.

The war is going to be brought more close to the people of Minidoka county and of the state of Idaho.

The October quota of men from Minidoka county to be inducted into the army has been set at 50, and it has been announced that in the future the total number of men that will be called monthly from this community.

The Minidoka draft board, like practically all draft boards in the state, has very few Class A unmarried men on its rolls. This means that married men without children must be called to fill quotas. When married men are called, with the consequent disrupting of home life, all will realize how close we actually are to the war.

It looks now as if thousands and thousands of married men will be inducted in the army before congress will have the courage to lower the draft age to the 18 and 19-year-old youths. Congress will do this without question, but not before election.

Perhaps it is this "playing politics" attitude of congress that makes the average citizen complacent.—Minidoka County News.

SIGN OF NAZI WEARINESS

As German troops battle in the streets of Stalingrad a wave of gloom sweeps the allied countries. The Volga is cut off from supply by the German army. All the oil fields north of the Caucasus are likely to be in German hands before winter. Some writers describe the allied plight as the worst since the fall of France.

The situation is indeed serious, even critical, for all we know. But there is one encouraging angle. The fighting for Stalingrad has been long and desperate, the German losses enormous. The issue hung in the balance day after day. German success uncertain.

Why didn't Hitler's generals throw a formidable attack at Moscow? This would have at least checked the flow of Soviet reinforcements rom there to the Stalingrad front. There is only one apparent explanation. Germany lacked what it took to launch a diversionary offensive in another sector.

This view is reinforced by the fact that German failure to reinforce Rommel in the air probably cost that worthy Suez, and the lack of adequate, German air power in western Europe where allied bombers are razing some of Deutchland's fairest cities.

The nazi power is still formidable but it is far from what it was at its peak. Hitler has to count his pennies now.—Nampa Free Press.

Pot Shots nominates for the most unpatriotic, ha'penny, soand-so of the week:

The guy who came along after dark Friday night and sifted the scrap metal pile put out in front by a lady in the 200 block on Sixth avenue north. She had piled the metal out front so it would be ready bright and early for the Boy Scout war scrap collecting in town Saturday morning.

The scavenger robbed Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors by taking everything of any possible value.

Dear Pot Shots:

Goes something like this:

Reed apartments adopt new alarm clock system . . . for customers—with uniformed attendant.

Big limousine at curb of sleeping emporium. . . . Electric horn blasting. . . Attendant in striped pajamas dashing through court to shut it off . . . Prancing up and down line of cars parked. . . But he made it and shut off horn.

It sounded like an air raid alarm, almost.

Or was it done to get customers of the domicile to toss out old alarm clocks for scrap drive? No doubt they should be.

Well, anyway the volunteer guerrillas ought to look into it, especially the bird in the striped pajamas in the early hours. It may be tough on him when the weather cools off.

Pots:

As long as there are whys-and-wherefores flying around on the reason for the sometimes very-mixed-up layout of the Twin Falls streets, I'll chip in my two cents worth:

And timer here tells me that the streets were laid out as they are so that prevailing winds couldn't make a clean sweep down any one street. In other words, all the streets in Twin Falls are such that they won't run parallel to any prevailing wind—thereby cutting down the dust hazard to some extent.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

CONFESSION IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL

Confession is good for the soul, and also for the body. This is especially true for children in their teens, adolescents who are confused and troubled and weighted with a feeling of guilt. Young people have to live with their thoughts, and often these are sad companions.

Questions flicker in the young, and things that would not give their elders a second thought keep them awake nights, spoil their days, threaten their health. If some experienced elderly friend just listens to their stories, and without condoning the mistake, says in effect, "Go and sin no more," the burden is lifted and life is easier.

Why do not the children tell their mothers and fathers and teachers? Sometimes they cannot tell what is on their minds because it would shock and frighten their parents. Children are always made to feel that their fathers and mothers never made mistakes, never got drunk, never stole a cent, never lost control of themselves. Not that they ever said it in so many words, but they imply as much as they warn and advise and admonish the children.

Suffer Trouble in Silence

Then, the children, knowing how their mothers and fathers feel about such mistakes, hate to distress them, shock them, and suffer their trouble in silence. They sense that in spite of their parents' assurances that something is wrong, but they cannot reach it. The only way out seems to be through the confessor, the clergyman or the trusted friend.

Once the story is poured out, the guilt released, the child feels free, cleansed, and is ready to go on again. Not in the old mistaken way. Not as one impatient at delays and confusion which slow down the show. In most cases they feel the confession of guilt as open criticisms. If carried on in a constructive spirit, will be helpful. That certainly is the only spirit in which they can be made without doing harm.

As a specific case, take the question of manpower and the draft. The thing which disturbs many here and which I have written about a number of times shows up sharply in testimony before the Tolan committee of the house. They officials—General Hershey, director of selective service, and Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the manpower commission—testified that no final authority exists to allocate manpower as between the armed services and industry.

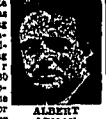

Francis Biddle, a government official, charged with obtaining production of indispensable war material, has been notified that the army and navy are going to need soon and take large numbers of men from the essential industry under his direction.

General Hershey has his orders to produce a certain number of men for the army. The other official has his order to produce a certain quantity of his war equipment. Who is to decide whether several thousand men working in these plants are to be held on the job or be taken into the army? Nobody has authority to decide now.

General Hershey was asked by the Tolan committee whether selective service was answerable to the army or to the manpower commission in such matters. General Hershey said that was something that had not been entirely figured out. He said cooperation had worked successfully so far. But General Hershey said that if the time came when he could not carry out the directives of the manpower commission and at the same time provide the armed forces with the men they called for, he did not know what the answer would be.

Chairman McNutt of the manpower commission gave the same reply in substance. He said he did not know the answer to the question that baffled General Hershey.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

ALBERT LEMAN

MYSTERY — Not to alarm the English public, little is said about a new bit of devilry by nazi pilots. Unofficial dispatches from stations in the British isles relate that the axis has been dropping phosphoric containers on dwellings, splashing liquid hell for from 30 to 90 yards. Their appearance is the real reason for Home Minister Morrison's recent order that in every hamlet compulsory training of volunteer firemen must be started immediately.

Our airmen have been urged to retaliate by scattering incendiaries over the great forests of Germany, because concealed among the pines are Goering's secret plane industries. The experience of an American diplomat now in New York bears out the theory that the woods are the end of the luftwaffe. Before we broke off relations he was motoring at night near Berchtesgaden, Hitler's eagle nest. He took a wrong turn and drove for almost an hour through deserted groves.

Finally he saw a sign which read, Chocolate Factory. He stepped from his car and observed a huge building almost concealed by the trees. Although he heard the hum of machinery he could not detect the odor of cocoa. His curiosity was confronted by the bayonets of two nazi soldiers who materialized from the shadows.

He revealed his identity and told the guards he had lost his way. The officer brusquely explained that he would be released but that it would be "sensible" for him to forget the night's adventure. The statement is convinced that something more vital than a sweets kitchen was hidden in the vast structure. Perhaps a blitz of blazing bombs will solve the mystery.

DYNAMITE — One reason for Berlin's desperate willingness to barter Egypt for Caucasian oil is evident in a list of cold statistics which has just reached a New York bank from representatives in Istanbul. Figures show that, despite extraordinary efforts by nazi technicians and local staffs, Rumanian petroleum production is dropping steadily. In some sections of the satellite country the 1942 output will be scarcely more than half the normal annual delivery. Turkish treasury men say that large scale adjustments by the reich will be cut between 10 and 15 per cent.

Acquisition difficulties are multiplying. Raids by United States and British bombers have disrupted the flow of the precious liquid. Shortage of skilled labor, scarcity of replacement parts, over-aged equipment, breakdowns and persistent sabotage accumulate additional handicaps. In the meanwhile von Bock's terrific offensive against Stalingrad is consuming fuel at an enormous rate.

Even if the general is able to salvage Russia's Maikop wells after the scorched earth havoc, his tank cars must run the gauntlet of ambuscades. A New York civil engineer just returned from an official mission into the Caucasus explains that railroads and highways leading east wind through deep canyons, high cliffs and thick forests—a veritable happy hunting ground for guerrillas with a few sticks of dynamite. They can sally from their hideouts, blow up a stretch of track or bridge and vanish into the nearly impenetrable mountains.

SOAP—United States troops in Egypt, brought up in the frank and open ways of a democracy, are bewildered by the stories of political intrigue and military treachery heard in Cairo and Alexandria. They find that whispering apparently is the universal mode of conversation. British officers confess to them that, although "the so-called friendly Wafdist government rules in the palace, the allies are sitting on a powder keg.

Rommel's invaders are not poised less than a hundred miles from the capital and still the local cabinet offers excuses for not using the Egyptian army. The impoverished fellahin are mainly illiterate and appear apathetic to the outcome of a duel for their soil between two foreign alliances. But every civil or martial authority from lowest rank to top seems to be plotting for one side or the other or both. A mistake of saving the French North African colonies which is carried on by the nazis the undercover machinations in the Nile basin, now directed by Italian agents well supplied with lire.

Mussolini's radio stations broadcast in Arabic daily and flatter the lowly nomads, farmers, city dwellers and politicians by calling them, "Oh, most noble Egyptians," or "Great and good Bedouins" and using other oriental soft soap which the Arabs love. It does modestly admits that he is the defender of the Mohammedan faith and predicts that when his legions are victorious he will elevate King Farouk of Egypt to the caliphate of the Moslem world, vacant since the Turkish sultanate was abolished after the first World war.

TRADE—New York shippers have secured these "inside details" on the new commercial agreement between Spain and Argentina. The pact is to last seven years. Buenos Aires has promised to export huge quantities of meat and grain and thus hopes to offset the decreased demand for these commodities by the United Nations.

Recent establishment of a large government-owned merchant marine, authorities believe, will guarantee prompt flows of goods. Franco will provide iron, canned fish and vegetable oils. Buenos Aires has not the slightest fear that overseas trade will be marred by U-boat raiders and the assumption in Manhattan is that assurances have been received from Berlin and Rome.

CLAPPER'S OBSERVATIONS NATIONS AT WAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—If there seems to be an unusual amount of criticism in what I have written recently, it is not because I am in a captious mood. Nobody can watch the progress of our war effort without feeling deep pride in its spectacular growth.

RAYMOND CLAPPER

But criticism, which I make as for the most part those which come from responsible men in the field themselves, from men who are working as hard as they know how. They become impatient at delays and confusion which slow down the show. In most cases they feel the confusion of divided responsibility. If carried on in a constructive spirit, will be helpful. That certainly is the only spirit in which they can be made without doing harm.

General Hershey said that was something that had not been entirely figured out. He said cooperation had worked successfully so far. But General Hershey said that if the time came when he could not carry out the directives of the manpower commission and at the same time provide the armed forces with the men they called for, he did not know what the answer would be.

Chairman McNutt of the manpower commission gave the same reply in substance. He said he did not know the answer to the question that baffled General Hershey.

In other words, for months Washington has seen the needs of the armed forces and of war production coming closer and closer to a collision. Neither the administration nor congress has taken action.

• • •

You hear much discussion about the proposed size of the army, questions as to how many men can be taken without cutting into war production, and how many of the better men will be piled up far beyond the ability to transport them. You hear questions as to the need for getting ships, guns, planes and other supplies competing for materials, each pushed without much regard to the needs of the other.

They are mostly questions that have to be answered at the top or very near the top. There is no compact group hand in glove with the President to bring strategy and all manpower and production needs into close and continuous view. Some branches are over-ordering, in the judgment of production officials, and sometimes at the expense of other important parts of the program. There are too many watertight compartments.

We are running short, so that eventually the President will have to sit down with a top group and dovetail the whole program into a unified and balanced whole. Some here feel that struggling with these difficulties feel is important that this be done very soon and that it should have been done before now. It is still too much of an every-bureaucrat-for-himself war.

'Nipped' by Own Teeth, This Man Lands in Court

SHOSHONE, Sept. 26 — Eugene Wood couldn't claim false arrest when Marshal R. W. Swope picked him up for the theft of two blankets and a quilt from the home of Lowell Winchester in Shoshone. His false teeth wouldn't let him.

Swope chased a man who took the blankets—and the quilt—the culprit dropped the loot near the baseball park. Out of the blankets rolled a set of "store" teeth.

Later Wood, in a translient, was arrested. He had no teeth and the false pair exactly fit him. Consequently he could do nothing but plead guilty when brought before Probate Judge Howard Adkins on a charge of petty larceny. Judge Adkins sentenced him to 60 days in jail which was suspended upon good behavior. Wood then obligingly moved elsewhere.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION WEEK

BOISE, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—Gov. Chase A. Clark late yesterday issued a proclamation setting Idaho's 12th annual observance of Religious Education week for Sept. 27 to Oct. 4.

In War Work

KIMBERLY, Sept. 26—Mrs. Lorna Goe Child, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Henry, Kimberly, and wife of Sgt. Russell K. Child has gone to Ogden, Utah, where she has accepted a clerical position in the war finance department.

Sgt. Child has been sent overseas. They were married Aug. 1 at Tacoma, Wash.

WILLKIE CONVINCED SECOND FRONT NEEDED TO HELP REDS

SAYS NEXT YEAR LOOKS TOO LATE

By M. S. HANDLER

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—Wendell L. Willkie said today that he was "convinced we can best help our heroic Russian allies by establishing a second front" and added that "next summer may be too late."

Willkie made the statement to the press as he prepared to conclude his whirlwind visit to Russia.

In the course of nine days spent at Moscow and Kuibyshev—with a brief visit to the front sandwiched in—Willkie had an opportunity to explain America's position and learn the Soviet attitude in countless talks with Russians of every position from Josef Stalin to the man in the Moscow street.

15 Hours Per Day

Willkie, working at a pace that long since left the members of his party red-eyed and exhausted, spent 15 hours a day studying Soviet industry and agriculture and conferring with Russian officials and foreign diplomats.

Probably no foreign dignitary on a flying tour of the Soviet Union ever learned so much about Russia as did Willkie in his brief stay here.

Willkie's personality, directness of manner, and democratic attitude captivated all Russians he met. To his vitality and optimism they saw the symbol of young America, for whom the Russians have the greatest admiration.

Meets All

Avoiding formal contacts as far as possible, Willkie talked with workers, peasants, soldiers, and intellectuals—thus obtaining a cross-section of Russian opinion he never would have acquired in embassies.

At the same time, Willkie carefully explained the American standpoint. A notable instance of that was last night, when he fully threshed out the question of the second front, the American supply problem, and Soviet-American relations in general with four noted Russian writers.

As First Scrap Loads Piled up Here

This was the busy scene as war-vital scrap was being taken from trucks for loading by the L. L. Langdon organization, one of the concerns which is handling the old metal being gathered in the Twin Falls county drive. Scrap came rolling into six depots in the county yesterday as the campaign got underway. With more than 200 tons gathered by Saturday night, the drive will be a continuing effort here and in other Magic Valley communities. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

Out-of-Town Taxi Journeys Limited

Twin Falls taxicab operators reported last night they have been informed by the office of defense transportation that hereafter no trips out of town longer than 10 miles can be accepted.

One cab operator said that this will force his organization to cancel many regular weekly trips that it has scheduled.

Trips to the Japanese relocation camp at Hunt have been a great source of revenue for local cab companies and now it will be necessary to cancel these.

Weekly Hog Pool Earns $14.55 Top

The Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing association inaugurated its every week shipments of hogs to market Friday with a pool of 235 porkers.

The 28 shippers received $14.55 a hundredweight top or a total of $3,195.75 for the hogs which weighed 57,110 pounds.

The American Packing and Provision company was the buyer.

Search Underway For Missing Boy

SANDPOINT, Ida., Sept. 26 (AP)—Sheriff Robert Ellerslek, aided by 75 Boy Scouts and men, was searching the foothills of Baldy mountain west of here today for Kenneth Allen Stern, 3, who disappeared from his farm home yesterday morning.

Kenneth Stern, the father, said he did not learn of the child's disappearance until last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reynolds and Mrs. Forrest Armstrong and daughter have returned from Portland where they went to get Billy Armstrong, who has been in the Shriners' hospital the past four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snell, Lubbock, Tex., are visiting at the home of her brother, Ben Kirkpatrick and family.

Mrs. Marx Nelson has returned to her home at Compton, Calif., following a visit with her relatives.

Mrs. Earl Clayton and Muriel Borgeson are attending Albion Normal school.

Marylee Schwaner and Victor DeVries left to attend the University at Moscow.

Phillup Powell is a student at Boise Junior college.

Mrs. Lorina Shockley and daughters, Lorene Ann and Lanetta, have gone to Santa Monica, Calif., to make their home. The Lee Monroe family has moved into the Shockley house.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilson and son, Gary, arrived from Freedom, Wyo., to visit relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Johnson and Louis Johnson left for Ogden, taking Verne Johnson there for medical attention.

Mrs. R. J. Lemmon has gone to Butte, Mont., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Joe McGill and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Reed, Gooding, and Don Robertson, Calgary, Canada, were recent visitors at the Glen Caldwell home.

Miss Helen Stevens has gone to Hansen to visit her sister, Mrs. Roy Blakesley, before returning to Salt Lake City to resume her training at the L. D. S. hospital.

Miss Iona Sifton, Emmett, teacher at the Japanese relocation center at Eden, visited recently with her aunt, Mrs. W. J. Tapper.

Mrs. H. Fred Baldridge and Wayne Chase, teachers in the Richfield school, took the Red Cross instructors' course at Jerome last week.

W. O. Buel, Phillup Buhl and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Brindell, Hickman, Neb., visited at the Chales Buel home recently.

Nature and Jack Frost Pool Talents to Offer Fairyland

Mother Nature and Jack Frost are now staging their annual show of foliar splendor in the south hills for the benefit of those hundreds of enthusiasts in the vicinity who look forward to this seasonal attraction.

Through the combined works of these natural artists, the foliage in the Rock Creek vicinity now presents a vast fairyland of varl-colored powder puffs, standing out in soft relief against a predominant background of green.

"Probably as colorful a sight as can be seen any place in the west because of the great variety and depth of color," is the way John T. Mathews, supervisor of the Minidoka national forest, proudly describes it.

Panorama of Color

In almost every canyon the maples have sprinkled this great panorama with a vivid crimson. The aspens, most abundant of the colorful trees, have added their touches of yellow and orange. And the choke cherries lend a profusion of deep red, all of which blend with masterful artistry into the general yellow that's characteristic of most foliage during different stages of autumn. The pines whose green survives the seasonal changes serve as the canvas upon which the others portray their foliature.

How long this spectacle will last depends upon the severity of successive frosts, according to Supervisor Mathews. Further light frosts may make the foliage even more beautiful, but a heavy freeze might cause the leaves to start dropping within several days, forcing Mother Nature and Jack Frost to ring down the curtain on their annual exhibit.

The Explanation

"Actually," explains Mr. Mathews, "the various colors in the leaves are there in the form of pigments, but they do not become visible to the human eye until the green matter in the foliage has been killed by frost.

"One of the questions often asked is what causes the abrupt contrasts of the gold and green in patches of aspens," the supervisor pointed out. "It does seem strange that in a clump of aspens, a distinct group in the middle or even on the fringe for that matter, will be a deep gold in color, while all the remaining trees are as abruptly and deeply green. Various reasons are offered for this phenomenon, but I don't believe it can be attributed entirely to the pranks of Jack Frost. I think the moisture content of the leaf itself has much to do with the color changes."

Nature lovers who have traveled extensively describe the fall color effects in the Minidoka national forest as equal to any foliar beauty they have ever seen elsewhere. The characteristic remark most often expressed by those who go to the south hills to see the foliage in its autumn colors is: "Wonderful!"

MRS. SWENSON IS HEAD OF NURSES

Mrs. Elsie Swenson is the new acting superintendent of nurses at the Twin Falls county general hospital, H. C. Jeppesen, superintendent, announced last night.

Mrs. Swenson, who has worked at the hospital for the past five years, is a graduate of the South Shore hospital, Chicago, finishing in 1929.

Since coming to Twin Falls she has served as chief anesthetist, supervisor of surgery and then was assistant superintendent.

While staying at South Shore for 10 years, Mrs. Swenson was successively floor supervisor, anesthetist, night superintendent, assistant superintendent and instructor of nurses.

She succeeds the late Miss Martha Hansen, who died of injuries sustained when she was attacked by a bear last month at Yellowstone park.

SCRAP

JEROME, Sept. 26 — The old French cannon, which has graced one corner of the front lawn of the Jerome county courthouse since shortly after the courthouse was built, has gone into the scrap iron heap.

The county commissioners at a recent meeting decided to donate the cannon to the government for scrap iron.

KAISER'S STEEL NEAR PRODUCTION

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, west coast industrialist, today termed steel the "real bottleneck" in the nation's war production schedule.

"There is nothing more necessary than steel, and we plan to help this situation with our southern California plant, using ore from western mines," said the former contractor whose shipyards at Pacific ports continually vie with one another for construction speed records.

In an interview, Kaiser said he expects also to set a record with his $55,000,000 steel plant, now being erected at Fontana, Calif., 35 miles east of here.

"We will be producing pig iron by January, and rolled plate shortly thereafter," he said. "This means only one year, or slightly less, will have elapsed from ore in the mines to finished product, since construction of the steel plant was begun last March."

First ore will come from Kaiser mines near Kelso, on the California desert, and will come from Utah. Production schedules call for rolled plate a month or two after the first pig iron is poured in January.

"And that means ready for delivery, too," he added.

Bert Sweet Wins First Rating Step

Bert Sweet, in the marine wing division, quartermaster corps, is now a private first class, the first of the group of Twin Falls young men who enlisted in the marine corps several weeks ago to receive a rating.

According to word received here by his parents, Pfc. Sweet has his own office and 16 men working under him. He is stationed at North island, San Diego.

Since entering the marines he has made a record in marksmanship, receiving medals for expert bayonet, sharpshooter and pistol, and marksmanship and rifle.

Taught to hunt at an early age by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. Sweet, Twin Falls, he was ranked one of the best marksmen among the younger hunters in this section of Idaho.

ALL OF IDAHO'S ENGINEERS WORK

MOSCOW, Sept. 26—Anybody with even a year or two of engineering training can have his pick of good military and war industry openings, reports J. Hugo Johnson, acting dean of the University of Idaho college of engineering.

"All of our graduates and former students for years back have jobs, so far as we know, but so urgently are engineers needed that we are still besieged with requests we cannot fill. Indications are that our engineering enrollment this fall will at least equal last year's all-time record," he said said, "and with our new laboratory building practically ready for occupancy, we will have better training facilities than ever before."

In Demand

Chemical and electrical engineers appear to be in most demand at present, Dean Johnson said. The army signal corps has helped create the unusual demand for electrical engineers with its big new radio direction finding or Radar program, he explained.

Radar is an ingenious device by which distances to an object are determined by the time it takes for radio waves to be reflected or bounced back from it. Angle readings from two such stations easily determine the exact location of the object, be it a mountain, ship, or plane.

Important Invention

"The RAF used Radar with telling effectiveness on its night fighters in the battle of Britain," said Dean Johnson. "Both Germany and Japan now have it, but I read recently where a patent has been issued in this country for Radar with television.

"If and when that is perfected, and used with infra-red rays, a little thing like fog over Kiska harbor won't be enough to stop United States bombers from finding and hitting their targets. All such development will require more engineers to perfect and use them."

800 Rams Listed At Pocatello Sale

POCATELLO, Sept. 26 (AP)—Eight hundred rams were listed today for the sixteenth annual ram sale to be conducted by the Idaho Wool Growers' association Oct. 3 at Pocatello.

The auction will begin at 9:30 a. m. and continue throughout the day. Concluding session will be a banquet followed by a business meeting at which war-time problems of production will be discussed, C. Clair, association secretary, reports.

Entered rams of all breeds from growers throughout southern Idaho are listed in the current issue of the Idaho Wool Growers' bulletin.

ALBION

Members of the Four Leaf Clover club met at the home of the president, Mrs. J. B. Chatburn, to begin the winter's club work after three months' vacation. An article on the army was read by Mrs. Galla Mahoney. The names of the secret sisters were revealed and others drawn for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Pres Asher entertained at a wedding shower Tuesday night honoring their daughter, Mrs. Betty Wickle.

Clyde LaRue returned to Albion from Coeur d'Alene where he has been employed for the past several months. He left to spend a few days visiting Mrs. LaRue in Pocatello.

The Normal school sponsored the first play of the season, a "get-together" in the Albion gym. Faculty and students were invited.

The Albion Grange met in regular meeting. Plans were made for "Booster" night to be held Monday night. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Riley Gray, Mr. and Mrs. George Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Miller.

Wounded Youth Returns to U. S.

Leo Kirkman, jr., Twin Falls, machinist's mate, second class, who wounded in the battle of the Solomons, has been returned to the United States, and is now a patient at the U. S. naval hospital in San Diego, Calif.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kirkman, are leaving today for California to visit their son.

Kirkman, who enlisted 19 months ago in the United States navy, was at Pearl Harbor when the war broke out in the Pacific, and has seen "plenty of action" since that time.

Extent of his injuries was not told in the letter he wrote to his parents since being hospitalized.

Gas Tax Revenue Registers Drop

BOISE, Sept. 26 (AP)—A drop of $38,570.23 in September collections of the Idaho gasoline tax was reported today by George Thiesen, director of the Idaho motor fuels bureau.

Collections for the month totaled $534,203.45 as compared with $572,-879.68 for the same month last year.

NAVY SEEKING 21 YOUTHS IN WEEK

After tentatively accepting eight recruits for enlistment yesterday, Chief Machinist Mate Edmund Bannon, recruiter here, said he was hopeful of reaching the quota of 84 recruits from the Twin Falls district this month. Forty-one recruits from the local office already have been accepted at the main station in Boise and 22 are still to be heard from, Bannon declared.

"If all of the 22 are accepted we will have 63 enlistments," Bannon declared. "That means we will have to secure 21 during the next week and I believe we can do it."

Eleven recruits will be sent to Boise Monday he announced.

Enlisting yesterday were Kay LeRoy Eames, jr., 20, son of Louis Eames, Almo; Ivan Zennith Taylor, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Taylor, Almo; Everett Roy Baker, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Baker, Kimberly; Dorsal Jay Catmull, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Catmull, Burley; Dale Laverne Dockstader, 21, husband of Mrs. Zella A. Dockstader, Washington Courts, Twin Falls; Eugene M. Poulter, 27, husband of Mrs. Rose Mary Poulter, Buhl; Howard Lenurn Sheldon, 20, son of Mrs. Ethel Sheldon, route four, Buhl, and Robert Edgar Hewitt, jr., 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hewitt, Shoshone.

All enlisted as apprentice seamen except Catmull, a former employe of the Douglas Aircraft corporation, who will try for aviation metalsmith, and Poulter, who will enter a radio technician school.

Recent acceptances of enlistment at Boise from Twin Falls area included: Douglas Steve Mahoney, Albion; Marvyn Victor Merrick, Oakley; Arvel Ernest Rasmussen, route one, Burley, and Alfred Woolsenhulme, route three, Burley.

Gordon Cathro in Naval Air Corps

An interest in aviation which originated before he graduated from the Twin Falls high school in 1937 has brought Gordon H. Cathro, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Cathro, Twin Falls, a commission in the U. S. naval air corps reserve. After attending a refresher school, he will be sent to the Annapolis of the air, Pensacola, Fla., to complete his training.

The young man was a scholarship winner in the first civilian pilot training program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce here in February, 1940, and received his wings at the local airport in November, 1940. He attended the University of Idaho, Moscow, in 1937 and 1938.

Recently Cathro has been employed by the U. S. ferrying command air base, Long Beach, Calif.

KEEP UP THE HOMES

We're fighting for...

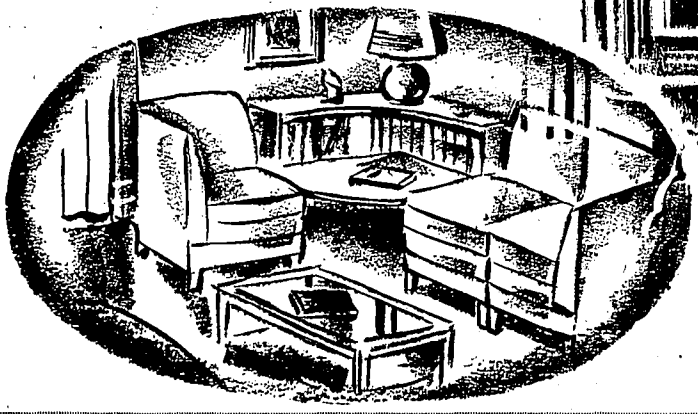

Instructions from Bataan!

THAT star in the window stands for Ray Smith*, American. He's a member of Company B, 192nd Tank Battalion, U. S. Army. Ray and his unit fought to the bitter end on Bataan, fought until there were no supplies left of anything except courage. Now he's missing in action, probably somewhere in a Jap prison.

Army regulations provide for continuance of pay after men have been reported missing or made prisoner. Ray's pay is going to Mrs. Smith. And, in accordance with his instructions, she's saving the government checks to buy furniture, a radio, refrigerator and the many other items that complete the home. When Ray returns he'll come back to a home worth fighting for.

*Ray's real name is not used here in deference to the family's request.

The American home has given Americans more that's worth fighting for than is enjoyed by any other nation on earth. That's why the boys on Bataan amazed the world by fighting on, month after unbelievable month, against overwhelming odds. That's why America will win the war, whatever the cost, whatever the sacrifice.

That's why Ray Smith's checks are buying : a still finer home.

AN EXPLANATION TO THE PUBLIC:

An increasing number of items commonly used in furnishing American homes are going off the market. They were made of materials needed in war industries. We know that you understand the necessity for conserving critical materials and will go without these things, willingly, when our pre-war supplies are exhausted. Fortunately, however, many home furnishings are still available and, for some time, at least, will continue to be so. It is our sincere conviction that home furnishings—which contribute so much to maintaining home morale and to the American standard of living—deserve a high place on the wartime budget.

You can be assured that the merchandise we offer for sale has been manufactured and is being distributed in full compliance with all orders, or even requests, of the governmental agencies directing the nation's war effort. Our terms, also, are those approved by U. S. agencies regulating the granting of consumer credit.

ANTI-INFLATION COMPROMISE NEARS SENATE'S APPROVAL

GOP SOLONS MAY FURNISH MARGIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — The administration's compromise proposal for dealing with farm prices in the anti-inflation bill appeared today to be headed toward adoption by the senate next week with Republicans counted upon to furnish the necessary margin of support.

Administration strategists claimed at least 52 of the 96 senate votes. An Associated Press poll showed 40 senators publicly committed to the principle of the amendment offered by Democratic Leader Barkley, Ky., 15 against, 34 either undecided or non-committal and seven not reached.

Barkley Proposal

The Barkley proposal would require President Roosevelt, or his aides, to lift farm price ceilings where they did not reflect to producers the increased cost of labor and other items on the farm. It was offered as a substitute for an amendment by Senator Thomas, D., Okla., and Hatch, D., N. Mex., proposing to increase parity price levels about 12 per cent by including farm labor costs, a move which President Roosevelt has opposed.

Of the 40 senators who endorsed the Barkley proposal, 20 were Democrats, 10 Republicans and one an independent, Senator Norris of Nebraska. Twelve Democrats and three Republicans flatly opposed it.

Administration leaders were confident that they would draw from the 34 uncommitted senators and the seven who were not reached sufficient votes to show a 2 to 1 margin on the showdown roll call expected Monday.

Not Committed

Of the 34 not committed, 16 were Republicans and administration strategists significantly were listing 11 of these as likely to vote for the Barkley proposal in the end.

Any such Republican support would reverse the minority party's tend in the house, where 96 Republicans joined with 105 Democrats to write into the anti-inflation measure — which the house later passed overwhelmingly — an amendment identical to that offered by Thomas and Hatch.

Senate administration leaders hoped to pass the measure by Tuesday at latest and send it to conference where a new battle was in prospect to overturn the 33-vote margin by which the house adopted the amendment altering the parity basis.

THOMAS REJECTS FDR STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — Senator Thomas, R., Ida., said in a statement the President had given the impression to the consuming public that "any farm price above parity is too high and may be considered inflationary."

"I deny," he said, "that these assumptions are justified."

The senator said facts presented to the senate banking and currency committee by farm leaders show the parity formula does not fit present conditions."

He said it was demonstrated the base period was unjust, that the formula for determining parity was obsolete, and that agricultural labor should be included among the items which measure the expenditures of the farmer.

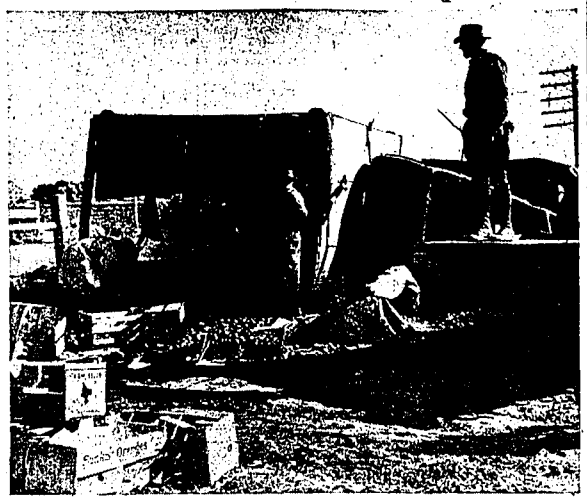

Thomas reviewed farm prices in 1926 and later years and said the actual increase in wholesale farm prices from August, 1939, to September 12, 1942, was 75 per cent. The farm price level on the latter date, he said, was only seven per cent above that of 1926.

"The administration now insists upon using the word 'inflation' in describing the entire increase in farm prices from 1939, although the major part of it should be considered 'reflation' under the New Deal's own standards," Thomas said.

Thomas said the report of the committee on banking and currency "made clear the chief source of inflation."

He said it showed hourly wage rates in all manufacturing industries increased about 30 per cent, that the aggregate of wages and salaries paid out had increased about 71 per cent, and that for the last 18 months unit labor costs have been increasing by more than one per cent a month.

Tomato Truck Overturns at Sharp Curve

Approximately a ton and a half of WPA tomatoes were spoiled for canning when Harry A. Lard, 60, Heyburn, failed to make a sharp turn on the sugar factory road southeast of Twin Falls Saturday afternoon. The photo above shows how the three-ton load came through the top of the van type truck as the heavy vehicle fell on one side. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

Tomato Truck Load Spilled On Highway

A truck loaded with three tons of tomatoes overturned at an intersection a mile and a half southeast of Twin Falls yesterday evening, with a loss of about half its load.

The truck was driven by Harry A. Lard, 60, Heyburn, who was uninjured. The tomatoes came from the WPA garden at Burley, and were on their way to the WPA canning project in Twin Falls.

Virgil K. Barron, state policeman, said Lard drove the truck along the narrow sugar factory road at a moderate speed in approaching the T intersection, which has sharp corners. Lard was undecided as to which way to turn, Barron said, and failed to make the turn when he made up his mind.

The truck careened across a ditch and into an adjoining field, turning over on its side. It was a van type truck owned by the state, and was believed to be only slightly damaged.

Barron estimated that about 50 per cent of the tomatoes was lost in the accident.

20 Chosen for Officer Training

BOISE, Sept. 26 (AP)—Twenty candidates for volunteer officers training were accepted from Idaho for induction in September, state selective service headquarters had announced today.

Among those accepted were: Dale C. Richards, Cassia county; Laurel R. Sorenson, Gooding county, and Melbourne H. Jensen, Twin Falls county.

Idaho Hopes No. 1 Scouter May Visit

Officials of the Snake river area council, Boy Scouts, were hopeful yesterday that Dr. James E. West, chief Scout executive since the incorporation of the organization in 1910, may be able to visit the local council in the future.

Dr. West has now been made chief Scout of the Boy Scouts and Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, professor of education, Columbia university, has been elected to succeed him as executive. This gives Dr. West the same rank as the late Lord Baden-Powell, the founder of Scouting, held in England.

Dr. West will now be free to travel and visit many of the councils he has helped to create.

Standsit Seat Gains Approval Of Capital City's Bus Riders

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Americans won't relax until victory is won—as least, not on the "standsit seat" which seems to be here to stay.

The space-saving squeeze squat with the slanting stance and the anti-knee-action, sprung by the office of defense transportation to solve the problem of crowded trolleys and buses, was voted better than standing today after a week's experimental workout.

Placed 18 inches a part in the test-tube trolley and bus, the standsit increased capacity from 25 to 40 per cent and crowded commuters from 10 to 14 inches closer than usual. Since only a pound and a half of steel was involved in each crouch chair—the rest of it being made of wood—the ODT hoped it would be a success despite the discomfort.

It was. Only some 700 exercised their suffrage and voted, but more than 400 said they preferred she to the regular arrangement of fewer seats.

Less than 200 favored the old-fashioned spacing.

The rest—confirmed old strap-hangers—said they should have stood instead, and would after this. They voted for no seats at all.

And now, with that capital comment, the ODT can see if the rest of the nation can stand (s) it.

MEET WILL DRAW DEFENSE CHIEFS

Seven leaders in the Twin Falls civilian defense organization are planning to be in Boise Thursday and Friday for a state-wide meeting of civilian defense workers to coordinate defense activities and expedite the training program.

Those who will make the trip from here are:

Asher B. Wilson, chairman of the civilian defense council; Frank L. Stephan, council vice-chairman; Mrs. Frankie Aiworth, council secretary; Erle E. Jones, council treasurer; Dr. A. A. Boston, chief of the medical corps; Sheriff W. W. Lowery, chief of the auxiliary police; and Leonard F. Avant, chief air raid warden.

Wilson said that the "clinic" will consider problems of the 'citizens' defense organizations Thursday, and citizens' service corps matters will be up for discussion Friday. Instructors will be army and civilian defense officials, and the group will witness air raid drills at Boise and Nampa.

As it ages, brick mortar becomes harder.

Services Tuesday For Mrs. Baugh

BURLEY, Sept. 26—Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Sophronia Baugh, wife of James Baugh, will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the L. D. S. church in Burley, Bishop John Holyoak officiating.

Interment will be in the family plot, at the Burley cemetery. The body will be taken to the home Tuesday morning, where it will remain until the hour of services. The Burley funeral home will be in charge of interment.

EPISCOPAL MEET UNDERWAY TODAY

With two recently ordained bishops, Rt. Rev. William Fisher Lewis, Nevada, and Rt. Rev. Frank A. Rhea, Idaho, and a former missionary to Japan, Miss Mildred Hester, on the speakers' roster, sessions of the convocation and the women's auxiliary of the Episcopal missionary district will get underway with business sessions for both groups at 2 p. m. today at Ascension Episcopal church.

Bishop Rhea, Boise, presided at a preliminary meeting of the bishops and council Saturday night at the rectory. Meeting simultaneously with Mrs. E. Leslie Rolls, Twin Falls, president, was the executive board of the women's auxiliary.

Bishop Lewis will preach the sermon at Ascension Episcopal church this morning. Rev. E. Leslie Rolls, host pastor, is secretary pro-tem of the convention.

Miss Hester, now a teacher at the Japanese relocation center at Hunt, who spent 13 years in work for the Episcopal church in Japan, will be one of the speakers at the banquet today at 6:30 p. m. at the Park hotel.

J. H. Blandford, Twin Falls attorney, will preside as toastmaster, and Bishop Lewis and Bishop Rhea will speak.

The womens' auxiliary will convene Monday at 10 a. m., and sessions will continue that afternoon.

Bishop Rhea will give the closing talk and benediction at that session.

Official delegates from Twin Falls to the convention will be E. Hollingsworth, Frank Magel, R. J. Walton, Guy Hyman and Homer Saxon.

CONGRESS FALLS FROM THE NEW DEAL DAGGER

Editor, Times-News:

"Congress abdicates" is the title of your editorial of Sept. 22. And you seem to be surprised. But anyone here the last 10 years or so — since the advent of the New Deal — should not be surprised. Your terms "abdicates" and "suicide" are not correct for congress falls from the dagger of the New Deal.

You say, "Nobody wants to destroy congress." We are not convinced.

Mr. Editor, you seem to think of congress as one, big, strong man with lots of 'authority, whereas it is composed of many individuals. It is like unto a bundle of sticks. The bundle is hard to break, but singly the sticks break easily. Under the New Deal the executive, with billions of dollars at his command, goes into the congressional district, or state, and breaks his sticks one at a time. And to quote you, Mr. Editor, "The brave man dies but once."

We hardly understand your emotional attitude toward "three-dimensional government" for the New Deal has ever moved swiftly toward centralization in the executive; and if the Twin Falls News, The Idaho Evening Times, or the Times-News, editorially, ever did anything, in the long run, to bolster congress against aggression we failed to see it!

We congratulate Idaho on its splendid representation in congress. And there is a Day coming—spelled with a capital. Mr. Editor — when congress will be congress, and not a rubber stamp!

EDWIN DAMMAN.

Prisoner Had Hope of Trip Home by July

Hope that he would be sent home from a Japanese prison camp "in June or July" of this year was expressed by J. W. Adamson, one of the Idaho men captured on Wake Island, and received by his wife last week. It was dated June 1 and was the first direct word she had received since the war.

"There is some talk now that we will be leaving here in June or July. I hope it's the first date," the letter said. "If we leave here before the end of the war we will go by the way of South Africa, and it will take about three months to make it. I hope that we don't have any trouble on the trip."

Hope Unrealized

That his hopes apparently have not been realized was confirmed the next day when Mrs. Adamson received a post card from a woman in Alameda, Calif.

It said that she had heard a broadcast over station JVH, Tokyo, and that the message said: "J. W. Adamson, Twin Falls, Ida., taken on Wake Island, is now a prisoner of the Japanese."

"There is consolation, even in that. At least I know that he is still alive," Mrs. Adamson said.

The letter wasn't one to be read without the deepest emotion. It contained some details of the death of Louis Adamson, who was employed with his father by Mr. Morrison-Knudsen Construction company on Wake island at the time of the outbreak in the Pacific.

"Louis was shot through the heel the first day of the war on Wake and was taken to the hospital."

Hospital Bombed?

(The next sentence, the family feels, seems to suggest that Louis received further and fatal wounds while in the hospital since he was taken to the hospital only for a heel injury.)

"He was hit twice, once with a piece of shrapnel through the shoulder, and a bullet through his abdomen. He passed away at 9 p. m. the second day of the war."

Mr. Adamson concluded his letter, "We are all being treated very good by the Japanese, but I would rather be home."

Mrs. Adamson said, after receiving the letter, "I have always felt that Mr. Adamson was alive and would 'last' as long as any of them, but I never expected a letter until it came."

The letter was unsigned.

Youth, 22, Draws Life Prison Term

POCATELLO, Sept. 26 (AP)—Willard N. Wright, 22, today was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Weldon Morgan, Inkom justice of the peace, May 15.

Wright pleaded innocent to the murder charge, claiming the shots which killed Morgan were fired accidentally while he was struggling with the justice.

Morgan was holding the youth as an auto theft suspect at the time the shooting took place. Wright fled and was captured in Oregon about two weeks later.

Wright was convicted by jury and was sentenced by Fifth District Judge Isaac E. McDougall.

ENEMY PREDICTS ATTACK ON DAKAR

LONDON, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—Axis radio propagandists played persistently today the theme that an allied attack was imminent on Vichy Dakar, on the African coast, 1,715 sea miles across the south Atlantic from the Bulge of Brazil.

The German controlled Paris radio said that Dakar was already under blockade and the French Quisling commentator added:

"The allies will attack Dakar soon. They will take its guar and timber and cotton as they already are doing in equatorial Africa."

Berlin radio broadcast a long transocean agency dispatch from Lisbon say that "United States aspirants for central and southern Africa are becoming ever more apparent."

The dispatch said American troops were now stationed in British Sierra Leone, 500 miles down the coast from Dakar; in the Negro republic of Liberia south of Sierra Leone, and in the British gold coast territory, British Nigeria and the fighting French cameroons (all on the gulf of Guinea).

It was said that the Americans were building roads across Africa to the east coast.

BUMPER

G. P. Simpson, Jerome, is looking for a car with a broken bumper. He reported to the sheriff's office here Saturday that a car sideswiped his machine two miles north of the Jerome bridge Friday night, and the driver fled the scene without stopping. Part of the hit-and-run driver's bumper was lying in the road when Simpson inspected the site of the collision.

NEW LEXINGTON REACHES WATER

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 26 (U.P.)—The new aircraft carrier Lexington, named for the ship sunk in the battle of the Coral sea, was launched today more than a year ahead of schedule, with echoes of the lost "Lady Lex" proud witnesses.

Thousands of war workers at the Bethlehem Steel Co.'s Fore River shipyard paused briefly to watch the equal pride as the giant slid down the ways into the same waters where its illustrious predecessor was launched 17 years ago.

She is the second carrier launched since Pearl Harbor and the fifth warship to bear the name of the first battle of the American revolution.

Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson of Mohawk, N. Y., widow of a former assistant secretary of navy, christened the new Lexington with the traditional champagne, playing the same role she had in the 1925 launching.

In his launching address, Rear-Admiral Frederick C. Sherman, who commanded the now sunken Lexington at Bougainville, Lae, Salamaua, and the Coral sea, dedicated the new carrier "to the service of our country, to the service of freedom, to the service of mankind."

Repeating the words of Rear-Admiral William S. Moffett at the launching of the lost Lexington, Admiral Sherman said:

"This magnificent ship must impress us all with the ever-growing importance of naval aviation."

"Now we launch a new Lexington with the full acceptance of Admiral Moffett's statement and with world recognition of the primary importance of naval air warfare."

Youth, Prisoner Of Japs, Writes Gooding Relative

GOODING, Sept. 26 — The first letter from the Shanghai war prisoner camp has arrived in Gooding. The letter was from Boyce Gooding, son of Mrs. Neil Gooding and grandson of Mrs. Walter J. Gooding. He also is a grand nephew of the late Senator Gooding.

The letter said in part: "I suppose you are wondering, worrying and wailing for news of me. Here it is. I am in good health and have little of nothing to worry me, other than getting home. Naturally, I am wondering just as you are about things; so write me at the above address, sending along a couple of cartons of Bull Durham if possible as tobacco here in China is very scarce.

He said Bill McKay, Gooding, also was a prisoner and to tell special friends hello. Concluding his letter, he said, "Well, mother, keep your chin up and keep well. Say hello to sister and grandma and give them my love."

Gooding left here Sept. 23, 1942, and sailed from San Diego for Wake island 10 days later as an employe of Morrison and Knudsen Construction company. This is the first direct word his mother has received from him since he was taken prisoner with the fall of Wake Island.

COURT REVERSES TWIN FALLS CASE

BOISE, Ida., Sept. 26 (U.P.)—The Idaho state supreme court today reversed a ruling of the state industrial accident board in favor of A. J. Bigley, Twin Falls, and against Mrs. F. C. Smith and Charles Smith.

The industrial accident board had ruled that injuries received by Bigley while in the employ of the Smiths were compensable, and damages must be paid. The state insurance fund had appealed the case.

The majority opinion was written by Associate Justice Morgan and concurred in by Associate Justices Budge and Ailshie. Chief Justice Givens and Associate Justice Holden dissented.

Tires for Taxis Increase Idaho's Quota in October

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 26 (AP)—Idaho will have a few more passenger automobile tires for distribution during October than in September but the private motorist isn't likely to benefit.

The increase, said the office of price administration, is primarily to take care of the needs of taxicabs, which have been made eligible for new tires recently.

For class A eligibles, Idaho will have 156 passenger car and motorcycle tires, compared with 149 in September. Other quotas are:

Class B eligibles 189; passenger car and motorcycle recaps, class A and B, 913; new passenger car and motorcycle tubes 621, commercial vehicle, new tires class A, 1,203, commercial vehicle recaps, class A and B, 1,352, commercial vehicles, new tubes 1,277.

Three or more persons are required to start a riot, according to law.

Village Bids for Scrap Drive Lead

CAMBRIDGE, Ida., Sept. 26 (AP)—The 300 residents of Cambridge in Washington county have made their bid for first place in per capita honors for scrap metal collection.

In a one-day drive last week the community rounded up 200,000 pounds of scrap for an average of 666 pounds per persons.

PRISON'S WARDEN 'FIRES' OFFICIAL

BOISE, Sept. 26 (AP)—Warden C. Van Clark of the Idaho penitentiary has announced that he "fired" L. M. Landon, Boise, chief of the prison's bureau of criminal identification and investigation, "because of personal reasons which I don't care to make public."

Landon reported the warden had asked him to resign, but added he had declined "pending a check with higher officials."

Reached by telephone at Grangeville, Governor Clark said he would investigate the dismissal, but stated "it's generally my policy to back up my department heads."

"I have reason to believe the warden was aroused over publication of facts concerning the recent drunken spree of a convict in downtown Boise," Landon told a reporter. "While the facts are true, I personally had no part in the disclosure of publication of them."

Police reported they had arrested Jack Galbreth, prison trusty who had not been released from custody, on a downtown Boise street "intoxicated and attempting to prowl a car."

Paris O'Neil, deputy warden acting as warden in Clark's absence, said at that time that Galbreth had gone "over the hill" while many guards were fighting a prairie fire. As a trusty he was quartered outside the walls.

Our men need tanks, ships and guns. The Steel for these must be made from 50 per cent scrap metal. But the Nation's steel mills don't have enough scrap on hand to last even 30 days more! Keep 'em running. Help build up a huge scrap stockpile —the bigger the better.

GO down into your basement—your storeroom. Climb up to the attic too. Look at the unused stuff you're sure to find, and realize how important these odds and ends can be.

Important to a kid half way around the world. Important to a blue-clad gob —to a flyer, racing to reach the target before some knifing Messerschmitt can find its mark.

That old metal means steel for these men. And steel means armor plate for safety—weapons and ships for Victory. Without it they'll die. They're not afraid of that—but it's better to give a life for a cause than to be sacrificed by thoughtlessness. And it's better yet to live, knowing that the folks back home didn't let them down.

And we won't let them down! The big scrap collection drive is under way —and you're going to help make it a good one. Don't let up because you see a full junk yard or a brimming salvage depot. That's the way they've got to be to make sure the mills won't run out!

Gloria Mae West Weds Former U. of O. Classmate in Oakland

Given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Glen N. Whitney, Kimberly, Miss Gloria Mae West, Kimberly, became the bride of Pfc. Robert Kay Christensen, Portland, Ore., Sept. 20 at the Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland, Calif. The ceremony was solemnized at 6:30 p. m. by Rev. M. Stripp, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Berkeley, Calif.

The bride and bridegroom were classmates their last two years at the University of Oregon, Eugene. Pfc. Christensen was taking post-graduate work at the university when Pearl Harbor was attacked, and shortly afterwards he enlisted.

With Air Corps

He is now in the office of headquarters, fourth fighter command, of the United States army air corps, Oakland. Business administration was his college major.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Oregon, was president of Sigma Kappa sorority her senior year. Miss Eileen Cooper, Oakland, a sorority sister, was her maid of honor. Pvt. Phillip Christman, Chicago, was best man.

A softly draped model in deep orchid crepe, with matching accessories was worn by Miss West for her wedding. Her flowers were orchids.

Miss Cooper was frocked in an olive green crepe model with brown accessories, and her flowers were gardenia.

White Setting

Vows were exchanged before a background of white gladioli and many lighted white tapers. Organ music was played during the ceremony.

A wedding supper was served at the Lexington hotel in Oakland, following the nuptials, Pfc. and Mrs. Christensen went on a wedding trip to Monterey, Calif., where they had reservations at the Del Monte hotel.

For traveling, the bride wore a tailored suit in beige with black accessories.

Out-of-Town Guests

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Christensen, Portland, Ore., parents of the bridegroom; Miss Harriet Chalmers, Portland, aunt; Miss Norma Aateland, Pocatello; Miss Barbara Wilson, Menlo Park, Calif., and Miss Barbara Parker, Berkeley, Calif., also sorority sisters of the bride, and Miss Meredith Hahn, Los Angeles.

Pfc. and Mrs. Christensen are now at home at 240 17th street, Oakland, Calif.

Camp Fire Week Brings Appeal For Leadership

Twin Falls Camp Fire Girls, wearing their service uniforms, today will join other Camp Fire Girls throughout the nation in attendance at the churches of their choice.

It will be an appropriate beginning to the observance of National Camp Fire week, Sept. 27 to Oct. 3. "Keep faith with youth, give priority to Camp Fire," is the organization's appeal to adults who can qualify as leaders of Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls groups.

Direct War Work

"Leadership of a group of young girls is direct war work," Mrs. Blanche Teasley, executive secretary at the local Camp Fire office, said last night.

"You may roll bandages, for instance, and actually see the fruits of your labor being wrapped and created, with a foreign address on the box, and a large Red Cross painted down the side to insure it safe travel across the water.

"But it's another thing to take a young girl, wrap her up and earmark her for a safe passage through the war, to be opened, good as new, when the worst is over," Mrs. Teasley said, in appealing to women to enroll as guardians of these youth groups.

Training Course

A three-hour streamlined training course for guardians is being planned to aid those who sign up, Miss Eldora DeMoss, field secretary, who will be here in October, will give valuable assistance and advice to new leaders.

Anyone who wishes to become a guardian, is asked to telephone Mrs. Teasley at her home, or at the Camp Fire office, phone 292-W, or call at the office, open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 5 p. m. and Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Five Dances in Coming Season For Stake MIA

The 1942-43 series of dances for the Twin Falls stake M.I.A. of the Latter Day Saints church will include five events, and will begin with a Harvest ball Thursday, Oct. 22, Mrs. C. Vern Yates announced last night.

Radio Rondevoo will be the locale for the dance, and Arlon Bastian's orchestra will play the dance music.

Mattie Crandall, activity counselor on the Young Men's M.I.A. stake board, and Miss Lova Tolman, activity counselor on the Young Ladies' board, will be general chairman of all dances.

Mel Carter will be dance manager, and sub-committees will be members of the two boards who will work in conjunction with them.

The activity calendar for the year was planned at a recent meeting of the stake board.

Second of the series of dances will be Dec. 3; the Gold and Green ball, most elaborate dance of each season for the stake, will be held in January; there will be a Valentine ball in February, and a Spring Festival in March.

Suggestions on Gifts to Send Men Over There

"Don't send me checkers when it's goggles that I need!"

That's what the U. S. soldier would "Sing a Song of Christmas Gifts," if you asked him to.

But you don't have to ask him—the Department Store Economist has already done that for you.

The 10 "swellest" gifts for soldiers and sailors, as indicated in a survey of 1,000 questionnaires filled out at USO headquarters in New York in which service men listed their Christmas gift preferences, were published on Friday's social and club news page of the Times-News.

Here are lists of other gifts, suitable for servicemen, enumerated in the order of preferences— not counting the first 10.

Gifts for Army

ARMY: Overnight bag with place to keep papers flat, sun glasses (polarized), magazine subscriptions, good pocket knife, handkerchiefs, New Testament, packet of adhesive tape, gauze, insect repellent, aspirin, Band-Aids, warm slippers, polished metal unbreakable mirror, flashlight, fitted toilet kit, books.

Pipe tobacco, shoe brush, gloves, muffler in regulation shade, sweaters (sleeveless), cross, cigarette case, pipes, cotton underwear, compact kit of bathtowels, Rosary, wooden shower clogs, portable phonograph, records, religious medals, warm robes, waterproof money belt, playing cards, unfitted toilet kit.

Diary, chess set, cribbage board, checkers. Listed about "middle of the list" were prepared packages of good eats sent from the store, and homemade cookies, cakes, jams, etc., but these were omitted from this list, since this is printed more to help you with your shopping for overseas servicemen, rather than those who are in camps in the United States. Food is one of the things you are asked not to send overseas.

For Men in Blue

NAVY. Good regulation socks, fitted toilet set, small sewing kit completely fitted, portable phonograph, New Testament, razor blade sharpener, cross, records, good regulation shirt, polished-metal unbreakable mirror, magazine subscription, package of adhesive tape, gauze, insect repellent, aspirin, Band-Aids, waterproof money belt, Rosary, sun glasses (polarized).

Warm slippers, wooden shower clogs, pipes, religious medals, good pocket knife, books, cigarette case, sweaters (sleeveless), muffler in regulation shade, pipe tobacco, shoe brush, handkerchiefs, compact kit of bath towels, playing cards, flashlight, warm robes.

Cotton underwear, unfitted toilet kit, diary, chess set, checkers, cribbage board.

Kindergarten's Needs at Center Told to Group

Needs of the kindergarten at the Japanese relocation center at Hunt were enumerated by Miss Mildred Hester, instructor at the center, for members of Group No. 8, Presbyterian Women's association, Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Wallace.

Miss Hester is a returned Episcopalian missionary from Japan.

The group planned to serve tea at the next general meeting of the Women's association and to serve the dinner for the Presbyterian Men's club.

Mrs. H. T. Blake, delegate to the International Presbyterian Women's association convention at Atlantic City, gave a report on those sessions, and also reported the sessions of the synodical society which she attended at Boise.

Brief memorial tribute was paid the late Mrs. Amanda Kautz, member of the group, during the devotional period.

Mrs. Austin Wallace was a guest. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Emma Burtt.

Mrs. Teater Is Feted at Party

RUSSELL LANE, Sept. 26—Twenty relatives of Mrs. P. A. Teater attended a surprise dinner in her honor the fore part of the week, the occasion being in honor of her birthday.

Special guests were Mrs. Ace Miller, San Antonio, Tex.; Mrs. George Bondraunt, LaCross, Kan., and Miss Clarabelle Haggardt, Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Fred Haggardt, sister-in-law of Mrs. Teater, baked the decorated birthday cake. Bridge was played during the evening. Members of the group presented a gift to the honoree.

O.A.O. Formal Dance Series Opens Oct. 14

Mid-October will mark the opening of the formal dancing season in Twin Falls. Invitation and announcement cards were sent to members of the O. A. O. Dancing club this past week by the board of governors of the club.

First dance of the season for the group is calendared for Oct. 14. Designated as "The Grand March" dance, it will be held at Radio Rondevoo, with Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Hinkle as chairmen.

* * *

Mrs. H. A. Elcock is chairman of the board of governors this year. Mrs. Tom Alworth is secretary, and F. C. Sheneberger is treasurer.

Other members of the board are Mrs. Kenyon Green, last year's chairman; Charles Crabtree, Frank Cook and Wilton Peck, former secretary-treasurer.

* * *

All dances will be held at Radio Rondevoo, which will be satisfactorily arranged for the various events.

The initial dance will be preceded by an informal hour from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Christmas Guest dance will take place Dec. 28, and will be one of the major events of the holiday season, with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pierce as chairmen.

* * *

Second dance will be "Swing Shift," Nov. 19, with Mr. and Mrs. Al Westergren as chairmen, and "Twitterpation" is the intriguing title of the Feb. 10 dance, with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hinton as chairmen.

"Finale," slated for March 23, will be directed by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McRoberts, chairmen.

Get Your Quota Of Efficiency, Eat Right Food

What can you homemakers do in the war effort? Duty No. 1 is simplicity itself . . . and well worth your effort.

"Health, efficiency and the fighting spirit are all improved by the right food, and almost everybody has something to learn on this subject."

That's your government speaking to you. It's a quotation from the Citizen's Handbook for War, issued by the United States office of civilian defense.

Enroll at once for a Red Cross course in nutrition. Evening classes start Thursday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p.m. and afternoon classes Friday, Oct. 2, at 2 p.m. at the Idaho Power company auditorium, with highly trained instructors in charge.

Home nursing courses, equally important, will begin Friday, Oct. 1. You may register for the nutrition and home nursing courses by going in person to the Twin Falls chapter, American Red Cross headquarters in the Twin Falls public library building, or by telephoning 425-J.

Pattersons Are Honored at Many Wedding Parties

HANSEN, Sept. 26—Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Patterson's recent marriage has been the inspiration for a series of post-nuptial courtesies. A charivari was sponsored by the Excelsior Grange at the Patterson home.

The couple was surprised another evening when 45 members and friends of the Kimberly Grange gathered at the Patterson home for a social evening. Mrs. Frank Beer, Kimberly, was general chairman. In each case the honorees were presented gifts.

Another courtesy was a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Patterson. Members of the families of Eugene Brown, Hansen, and Richard Brown, Kimberly, were seated with the honorees.

A special gift for the Pattersons was presented this week at the O. E. Sarten home at Kimberly, by members of the Dorcas class of the Kimberly Methodist church, of which Mrs. Patterson, formerly Mrs. Edith Brown, had been a member for a number of years.

Mr. Patterson has been master of the Excelsior Grange at two different times.

Jewelry Shortage No Problem to Students

By CELESTINE SALMON

Are you worried about the shortage of metals because you're afraid you won't be able to get any more "do-dads" to wear on your lapels, in your hair, or any other clever jewelry for necklaces? Or perhaps you feel even if there is a shortage of metal, there may still be some jewelry but it will be so expensive you can't afford to buy it. Cheer up—sagebrush may solve your problems.

The handcraft classes at the Twin Falls high school, under the direction of Miss Agnes Shubert, are making all sorts of jewelry out of ordinary sagebrush. Pins, initials and even stands for vases are some of the many things the classes are working on.

Sawing Takes Strength

Now the question arises, "How do you go about making these various articles?" The first step, after securing the sagebrush, is to saw it. This requires strength, as the wood is extremely hard.

You may cut the wood diagonally or cross-wise—either way makes an attractive wood. You then take off the rough outside bark and leave on the light bark. When the light bark is sheilaced, it turns a beautiful yellow.

After you give these articles two coats of shellac they look like they have been fashioned by an expert designer. Simple isn't it? And so inexpensive—just go pick some of the sagebrush that abounds around Idaho and you're ready to start.

Peach stones make very attractive buttons, the handcraft class found out. You split the stone, file and sand it, and after holes have been drilled you can sew them on a blouse or other piece of clothing that needs buttons. The peach stones may be colored or you can sew them on without coloring them.

Other Handcraft

Mulberry wood and cedar are some woods that are used to make attractive hearts, initials and even necklaces. Notebook covers can be made out of plywood and decorated with leather, cork and by wood-burning.

The making of trays, wooden plates and boxes are the plans of the handcraft classes for latter on. These will be colored and designs painted on them.

If you want a new piece of jewelry don't feel you have to go buy it—take a hint from the handcraft classes and make it.

OUT-CLASSED VANDALS LOSE HOMECOMING BATTLE, 32 TO 0

Oregon State Club Wears Down Idaho To Capture Opener

By JIM THOMAS

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 26 (AP) — Outweighed and outpowered but still fighting, Idaho opened the school year and celebrated its homecoming day today by losing a 32 to 0 football game to the Oregon State college Beavers.

Before nearly 7,000, the orange clad Rose bowl champions powered their way to five touchdowns in the first three periods and then were held scoreless in the final quarter as the outclassed Idahoans went down to a hopeless but fighting finish.

The Idaho line, weak late in the game from lack of reserves in the guard positions, held solidly for the first 15 minutes and the teams battled evenly across the center of the field until fullback Joe Day cut loose with a 54-yard gallop, longest of the day, to score the first O.S.C. touchdown.

Oregon State scored twice more in the second period and then repeated the fireworks in the third.

Score Again

Idaho kicked to the O.S.C. 20 to open the second half and 2½ minutes later, after only four plays, left half Everett Smith went over for the Beavers' fourth tally, cutting through the center of the line from the Idaho six.

Six minutes later, fullback Louis Shelton crashed over for his second touchdown of the day, after a 50-yard drive that started with a 23-yard punt return by halfback Leland Gustafson.

Idaho had its one big bid for a tally in the second period, after the third Orange touchdown. Howard Manson, outstanding passer in the Coast conference that year, started pitching from the Idaho 20 and moved the team, on six tosses, to the Oregon State five.

Drive Bogs Down

There the drive bogged. On the final play a Manson pass was intercepted behind the goal line and Oregon State's Day grabbed the ball fell into the field of play to chent Idaho of a possible two points.

The winners dominated the game in everything but passes, where Idaho gained 44 yards to Oregon State's 34.

Tulane Green Wave Tips Trojans, 27-13

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26 (AP) — Southern California's Trojans, generally touted in the pre-season reckoning as one of the two best teams on the Pacific coast, took a sound beating today at the hands of Tulane, 27 to 13.

The Greenies of New Orleans exploded two quick touchdowns in the second period against a slow Trojan line that was outcharged most of the way, and continued the assault in the third quarter with two more.

Trailing by 27 to 0 as the final stanza started, the Trojans yanked out their regular backfield and a new combination found a weakness in the Green Wave's line for two touchdowns.

Santa Clara Tips Utah Redskins

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 26 (AP)—Santa Clara's frisky Broncos, running wild at times, unscathed Utah university's football Indians in an intersectional battle today 12-0 before 13,294 fans.

Santa Clara's sparky offense tricked Utah's defense throughout and its defensive line stopped the mountain states conference champions cold.

The Utes, back to the old single wing formation after a year of crowd-pleasing T-formation, never approached the Bronco goal.

Hunters Cautioned on Fire Care in Forests

A warning to take extra precautions in the forests this year while hunting was issued today by John T. Mathews, supervisor of the Minidoka national forest.

As the time neared for the special hunts in that area, plus the annual wide-open hunting season in other sectors, forests are in tinder-dry condition, officials point out and extra precautions are again urged on sportsmen.

Grover C. Davis, district conservation officer, asks that every hunter carry into the forest a shovel, axe and water pail with his hunting outfit so that he may be able to help fight any fires he starts out.

First deer hunt of the year in this region gets underway Sept. 30—the Minidoka special. This hunt lasts until Oct. 9 and Davis points out that checking in to the forest area will be allowed to start at noon the day preceding opening of the hunt —Tuesday, Sept. 29.

Checking stations open this year are as follows: Shoshone station, located on Rogerson-Oakley road; Rock creek, located at winter CCC camp. Crocket springs on road south of Kimberly; Basin pass, located on Big Cedar canyon road; Northwater, on main road from Oakley to Bostetter; Trapper creek, located at Shaw ranch, and Elbow mountain summit. A roving checker will be stationed at Big Pinney, north of Rancho Grande.

The annual open hunt on big game at large in southern Idaho opens Oct. 5 and concludes Nov. 5.

Davis warns that hunters entering the forest should be equipped with deer tags purchased in cities because none will be available from checkers in the forest.

Cautioning hunters that several arrests were made last year for lack of following rules, Davis stated that hunters must remember to immediately attach a tag to the carcass of a deer when it was shot.

Mathews, in Twin Falls from Burley after spending two weeks in the interior of the Minidoka forest, told Southern Idaho Fish and Game association officials that the "fire hazard in the forest is critical and that the utmost caution must be used in prevention of a possible conflagration in that area during the special hunts.

"Autumn fall rains are conspicuous by their absence this year, making the forest as dry as it was during the hot mid-summer months.

Mathews also urged the sportsmen of the area to join in the hide salvage campaign during the hunt and turn over all deer hides to the game organizations, which in turn will see that the hides reach the proper government channels for defense uses.

Gophers Drub Pittsburgh Gridders, 50-7

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—The University of Minnesota football team handed its new head coach, Dr. George Hauser, an impressive victory today by crushing the Pittsburgh Panthers 50 to 7 for its 18th consecutive win.

There wasn't a doubt about the outcome of the game from the moment Bill Daley, Gopher left half, scored the first of his four touchdowns on a 30-yard run a few minutes after the game opened.

The Gopher rooters got a brief scare on the very next kickoff, when Tony DiMatteo ran the ball through the entire Minnesota team for a 98 yard touchdown jaunt, but that was the last time the Panthers came close to pay dirt. After DiMatteo's great run, the Gophers roared right back to count two more touchdowns in the first period.

With a 20 to 7 lead, Hauser put in his second stringers, who found the Panthers a match and the best the Gophers could do in the second period was a field goal, by Vic Kulbitski.

The Minnesota first stringers came back to start the second half and Daley scored twice more in the third period, once on an eight-yard run and again on a seven-yard dash. Again the second stringers came in, and they kept up the touchdown parade, with sub backs Dick Kelley and Bob Sandberg getting the touchdowns, the latter on a pass.

Washington State Upsets Stanford

PALO ALTO, Calif., Sept. 26 (AP)—Washington State college launched its drive for the Pacific Coast conference football championship today with a 6 to 0 victory over Stanford's Indians on a fumble recovery in the fourth quarter.

Coach Orin E. "Babe" Hollingbery's powerful Cougars took the T to pieces at its inception. It failed to mystify just as a year ago when the northerners chalked up a 14-13 win.

Washington State played its usual rugged game, attacking from single wing formation. It was sufficient to give it a touchdown pass in the second period and completely dominate the game.

by Hal Wood

I've been wondering just how far you would have to look these days to round up the members of the Twin Falls softball team that held the state championship two years in a row — 1939 and 1940.

Some of the boys are in the army, some in the marines and others in the navy. Nearly all are scattered to the four corners of the earth helping Uncle Sam win his own far-flung ball game.

The scattering of the softball club was brought to mind by the fact that Addy Atkins, all-around south Idaho athlete, will be leaving soon for Honolulu where he will work for M-K and help rebuild U. S. defensive and offensive bases.

When Addy lands in Honolulu he will probably be met by a very old friend — Ray Frels.

Ray was a crack second baseman and pitcher for his championship softball teams in those two victorious years — and he hasn't slowed down a bit in the islands.

He is now playing on a club that has won the 1942 championship and he is the islands' outstanding pitcher, already hurling two no-hit games this year.

When Addy Adkins lands there he'll probably be invited to join the Frels club — which wouldn't hurt the chances of any softball club in the country.

Short shots:

It's interesting to note the number of star football players from Idaho high schools attending outside state institutions — and the Vandals literally crying for material . . . In the Brigham Young university lineup I note Fielding Abbott, over-size guard from Nampa, and Herman Longhurst and Bob Liday, former Pocatello stars . . . and the highly-touted youngster in the University of Utah backfield this year is none other than freshman Wally Kelly, who sparked the Pocatello team to the championship of the Big Six last year . . . Earl Eggers, former Idaho high school coach and later at Caldwell, is reported as missing since the fall of the Philippines . . .

There's one thing about the National league race — everybody on the executive end of the Cardinals and Dodgers ought to be happy about finances . . . the decision on that torrid race today — the final day of the season — happens only once in a score of years of play . . . Can you remember when the last big league race was settled on the final day of the campaign? . . .

And did you notice the upsets in the national gridiron picture? . . . not to mention south central Idaho high schools . . .

California Edges St. Mary's, 6-0

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 26 (AP)—University of California's football Bears worked hard today for a skimpy 6-0 victory over St. Mary's college in the traditional season opener.

Coach Jimmy Phelan, formerly of the University of Washington, fielded a typical Phelan team for St. Mary's that surprised the crowd of 35,000 by showing the Bears around most of the game.

Buhl Gridders Slash Way to 12-7 Victory

BUHL, Sept. 26—Halfback Raedals' name didn't appear in the scoring column but the followers of the Buhl Indians today gave him much of the credit for his team's 12-7 upset victory over Coach Rex Hunnakee's fast-stepping Rupert Pirates in a Big Seven high school gridiron battle yesterday afternoon.

After Eastman, Buhl fullback, had galloped 55 yards around left end to the Rupert two-yard line, where the Indians lost the ball on downs, Raedels' fine punts, several of them in the coffin corner, locked Rupert in its own territory and set up the first Buhl touchdown.

Five times in the first two periods, Buhl pounded within scoring distance of the Rupert goal line, only to lose the ball. However, persistency prevailed and about the middle of the second quarter, Quarterback Hustead lateraled to Halfback Corbin, substitute for Harding, who slipped around left end for a touchdown. Then just before the half ended, Harding skirted left end for another touchdown. Buhl's tries for the extra points failed.

The Rupert team came to life in the third period and began to show some of its boasted power. A drive from deep in the Pirates' territory aided principally by a 20-yard pass, put the ball on the Buhl two-yard line. From there Fullback Moncur crashed center for a touchdown and a moment later added the extra point from placement.

Neither team threatened for the remainder of the game with play mostly between the 40-yard lines.

The victory was Buhl's first of the season, the Indians having tried and lost their previous encounters.

Iowa Cadets Win Over Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 26 (AP) — Striking the happy medium of power on the ground and accuracy in the air, Bernie Bierman's Iowa naval pre-flight team harmonized its attack around Bill Schatzer today to defeat Northwestern 20 to 12.

The Seahawks, drilled in fundamentals of crisp blocking and tackling, drove to one touchdown in the first quarter, another in the second and a third in the last period. Northwestern, opening its football season before a crowd of 25,000—10,000 less than at last year's first game—scored twice in the second quarter, the second touchdown sending the Western conference member into a short-lived lead.

The 187-pound Schatzer of North Central college, Naperville, Ill., was just a wisp of a lad among Bierman's polished huskies as he herded the fliers to their second straight triumph of the season. He averaged 6.4 yards in 13 times with the ball.

Giants Win One, Then Lose on Forfeit to Braves

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Baseball's bit in the scrap metal drive backfired at the Polo Grounds today when the youngsters who got into the ball park with "scrap" contributions broke up a ball game and gave the Boston Braves a forfeit victory over the Giants.

The Giants won the opener 6 to 4 with the help of Mel Ott's 30th homer of the season, Johnny Mize's 26th and the second eight-hit elbowing of King Carl Hubbell. And, with one win already "in the satchel," the New Yorkers were sailing along with a 5 to 2 edge halfway through the eighth inning of the afterpiece.

Then without any warning, the "kids" who had brought scrap as their ticket of admission, seemed out of the stands and all over the field. So at the umpires' request, the game was ended right there and was forfeited 9 to 0 to the usual 9-0 forfeit score.

Twin Falls Thumps Gooding Gridders By 35 to 0 Score

GOODING, Sept. 26 — Twin Falls Bruins, showing a world of speed and some fancy passing to go along with it, knocked over their second Big Seven conference victim in a row here last night by trimming the Gooding Senators, 35-0.

The Bruins tucked the game away early, scoring two touchdowns in the first quarter. Play was ragged in the second stanza and both clubs battered away in the middle of the field without much damage — and no scoring — being accomplished.

However, the visitors picked up nine points in the third frame and then added 12 more in the last as they started to click with perfection. Coach Hank Powers of the Twin Falls nine and Coach Mack Saunders of the Solons each used all players available during the contest.

First Score

First score came early in the opening frame when Gene Malone, Twin Falls back, hit the line. A few minutes later, Stan Pettygrove caught a pass from Lyle Pearson for another counter and the score stood 14-0 at the end of the opening period.

Next counter came in the third frame when a Twin Falls kick fell dead on the two-yard line. From there a Gooding player picked it up and ran behind his own goal line attempting to run it out. He was boxed in there by a trio of Twin Falls tacklers and downed to give the Bruins two points for a safety.

A short while later the Bruins got another score on the strength of some fine ball-packing by Herb Gentry. The husky young back carried the ball most of the way down the field and finally went over for a touchdown.

Biggest Run

Biggest run of the day was turned in by sprinter Tom McDonald, one of the state's fastest dash men. Tom took the ball on a reverse and scampered 60 yards for a counter, showing his heels to both the Gooding team and members of his own club.

Louis-Conn Scrap Will Not Be Held

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — War department officials stated flatly tonight "the Joe Louis-Billy Conn fight will not be held."

"And that is final," said a spokesman representing Secretary of War Stimson.

"We have been informed that there seems to be some doubt as to whether or not the fight will be held," the official, who asked not to be quoted by name, said. "We understand some stories have been circulated saying that Secretary Stimson will 'reconsider' the question.

"There will be no reconsideration of the question. Mr. Stimson's word was final," the official said.

The official had no comment to make in regard to stories from New York that all hands had offered to stage the bout without pay.

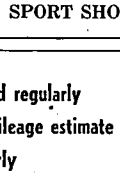

Shoshone Indians Defeat Richfield

SHOSHONE, Sept. 26—Coach Elmer H. Eddington's Shoshone high eleven rang up its second victory of the season yesterday afternoon, defeating Richfield here, 45 to 0.

The score was 12 to 0 at the end of the first two quarters.

Coach Eddington used every player on his squad during the game.

Three Suggestions on how to make tires last longer

1. Switch tires systematically and regularly
2. Let us give you a free tire mileage estimate
3. Drive carefully and more slowly

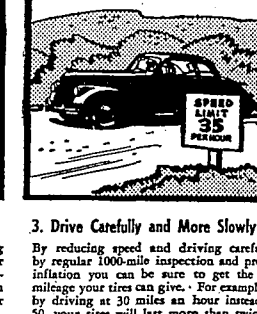

1. Switch Tires

This diagram shows how wear varies. Use your poorest tire as the spare; next to poorest on the left front, where it gets only 14% of the wear; next best on the right front, getting 19% wear; next best on the left rear, with 29% wear; and your best tire on the right rear, where it takes 38% of the total wear. Switch older tires every 2500 miles; newer ones every 5000 miles.

2. Free Tire Mileage Estimate

Your Pep 88-Vico station has a measuring instrument with which to gauge the rubber left in your tires and to estimate the approximate mileage each can still travel. Drive in for this service today. Then you can rate your tires according to condition—best, next best, etc. This is extremely valuable information to have, and we are glad to make the estimates for you entirely without charge.

3. Drive Carefully and More Slowly

By reducing speed and driving carefully; by regular 1000-mile inspection and proper inflation you can be sure to get the full mileage your tires can give. For example — by driving at 30 miles an hour instead of 50, your tires will last more than twice as long. The faster you drive, the faster your tires wear out. Don't drive over 35 . . . avoid sharp bumps . . . don't start or stop suddenly.

And to make your car run better, last longer, use these two performance partners:

PEP 88 GASOLINE especially refined for the intermountain territory.

DODGERS STAY IN FLAG RACE

Brooks Whip Phillies As Cards Stay Idle; Decision Looms Today

By WHITNEY MARTIN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26 (AP) — The die-hard Brooklyn Dodgers, blending their own efforts with circumstances beyond their control in St. Louis, today carried the National league pennant race right down to the wire.

With today's developments, everything now rests on the final games of the season tomorrow to determine whether the Cardinals take the pennant outright, or must play a two-out-of-three-game series with Brooklyn for the honors.

The Bums had to win today's game with the Philadelphia Phils to keep even a slight flame under their flag hopes, so they won it 8 to 3. A defeat today would have put Brooklyn definitely out of it. Likewise a Cardinal victory over the Chicago Cubs would have clinched it for the Red Birds.

Helps Dodgers

The Card game was postponed, but the Dodgers came through with their end of the bargain by whipping the helpless Phils in a wild and wooley game which saw pitchers wearing a rut from the bull pens to the mound.

For five innings it was a pretty tight ball game, but in the sixth the Dodgers went on a six-run rampage which left the teams just putting in their time the remainder of the game.

Manager Leo Durocher had picked boisterous Bo-Bo (Pennant Insurance) Newsom to carry the pitching load for the all-important encounter, but Bo-Bo could only carry it part way. For four innings he had everything under control, but in the fifth he was chased to the showers, where he kept the water hot for Larry French, who relieved him. French went out in the seventh and Hugh Casey went the rest of the way.

Triple Steal

The Dodgers scored one run in the first and another in the fourth, when, with the bases full as a result of a single and two walks, they pulled a triple steal, on which heavy-footed Dolph Camilli was the anchor man and scorer.

The Phils tied it up in the fifth on Ben Warren's home run into the left field stands, a walk and two singles.

The alarmed Dodgers, visioning the ignominy of being knocked out of the race by the Phils, came back with a barrage of hits in the sixth, scoring six times.

The Phils got one back in the sixth on three singles.

Jerome Upsets Filer Grid Squad, 21-6

JEROME, Sept. 26—Coach John Norby's Jerome high Tigers came back from their defeat by Wendell a week ago to wreak vengeance upon a favored Filer eleven, 21 to 6, here yesterday afternoon.

Jerome held the upper hand for the first three quarters during which the Tigers did all their scoring and only in the final period when Norby had many of his substitutes in the lineup did Filer count its six points.

It was Tommy Ambrose, substitute center who went into the game for Kenny Crothers, that started Jerome on the road to victory. After Quarterback Jerry Diehl had punted out-of-bounds just inside the Filer 20-yard line and Jerome had pushed their opponents back to the five-yard line, Ambrose broke through and blocked a Filer punt. A Filer player, however, fell on the ball and it went for a safety.

Shortly thereafter Diehl slid off tackle for 20 yards and a touchdown to climax a long Jerome march. The score remained 8 to 0 until early in the third quarter.

Opening the second half, Filer fumbled the kick-off and Jerome recovered. A moment later, Diehl again shot off tackle for 50 yards and a touchdown. Lloyd Goodrich, Jerome fullback, slipped through tackle for the extra point.

Jerome scored again in the third quarter when Halfback Al Walter intercepted a Filer pass and the Tigers began a march that ended with Diehl going off tackle for the touchdown.

Ruby, the Filer quarterback who was one of the stars of the game, scored in the final quarter, his 15-yard end run bringing a touchdown after a march down the field.

Mel Harder Hurls Indians to Cinch Tie for 4th Place

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26 (AP)—Mel Harder and Les Fleming combined today to give Cleveland a 3 to 0 shutout over Detroit and at least a tie with the Tigers for fourth place.

Mel pitched a seven-hitter, permitting only one blow in the last four innings, and Fleming lined an authentic triple which staked the Indians to two runs against Al Benton.

Burley Grinds out 19-0 Win Over Oakley

BURLEY, Sept. 26 — Coach Rulon Budge's Burley Bobcats took the lead in Big Seven conference play here yesterday when they ran roughshod over the invading Oakley Hornets for a 19-0 victory. The Bobcats are the first team to chalk up two wins in conference play this year.

Sparked by Verne Mendenhall, senior tackle, the Bobcats turned in a fine defensive game and scored touchdowns in the first, third and fourth quarters. With the local offense clicking, the Bobcats ran up 18 first downs to seven for the visitors and Oakley never seriously threatened the local goal.

First touchdown came as result of fumble recovered by Mendenhall on Oakley's 45-yard line. From there Calvin Pace and Jay Evans ran three plays to the six-yard line and from there Pace threw pass to Evans in the end zone, with Evans making great catch. Gordon Roberts kicked the extra point.

Second score came in the third frame when Oakley attempted to kick out from behind own goal line. The kick was blocked by a horde of Burley tacklers and Mendenhall fell on the ball behind the goal line. Roberts' attempt to kick for the extra point was blocked.

Pace and Warren Bell ran a series of line smashes through the Oakley center and tackle posts with Bell finally going over standing up for the third score. Roberts' attempted kick again failed.

Bob Matthews played a fine game for the Hornets, also doing some fine kicking.

The Hornets never got inside the Burley 30-yard line. Line plays failed to work for the Oakleys and they tried passing — with little success when they got past the mid-section of the field.

Kimberly Bulldogs Rally to Defeat Ferry Club, 21-18

GLENNS FERRY, Sept. 26—With only a few minutes left to play, Kimberly pushed over a touchdown here yesterday afternoon to defeat Glenns Ferry high, 21 to 18.

A 20-yard weak side pass gave Kimberly a touchdown in the first quarter and an end run added the extra point. Another pass, this time over center, added another six points in the second quarter, while an off-tackle drive added an extra point.

However, the complexion of the game changed completely in the third quarter when Glenns Ferry scored a pair of touchdowns, a pass, good for 10 yards, from Joe Doboran, fullback, to Louie Doboran, right end, bringing the first, and a smash through center by Joe Doboran adding the second. A line smash and a pass were tried for the extra points but both failed.

Glenns Ferry went into the lead soon after the opening of the final quarter when Halfback Dean Redford scored a touchdown on a 10-yard end run following a drive down the field.

Then with the game drawing to a close, Kimberly drove down the field with an off-tackle run bringing the touchdown. The extra point was added in the same manner.

Caldwell Defeats Idaho Falls in Big Six Conflict

IDAHO FALLS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Caldwell high school's Cougars scored the first victory in 1942 Southern Idaho High School conference play last night, defeating Idaho Falls 7 to 6.

The Cougars scored on a pass midway in the second quarter and the Tigers tallied their counter in the third period. The Tigers' try for the extra point, a line plunge, failed, however, and the Cougars' extra point was the victory margin.

Starting from their own 35, the Cougars ran and passed the ball to the Idaho Falls 30 from where an aerial try was good for the touchdown.

Caldwell threatened in the opening period, punching the ball to the Idaho Falls 6, but an intercepted pass halted the drive.

After the Idaho Falls score in the third period, neither team was able to unloose a serious threat. There was considerable passing with both teams showing strength in the air. Idaho Falls gained a total of 334 yards to 301 for Caldwell.

STOCKS REGISTER WEEK-END DROP

Markets at a Glance

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—

Bonds mixed; rails recede on profit selling.
Cotton higher; trade price fixing.

Wheat steady; await price control program.
Corn steady; some crop damage feared.
Cattle nominally steady.
Hogs steady; quotable top $15.35.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (UP)—Week-end profit-taking brought an irregularly lower movement into the stock market in relatively quiet dealings today.

Most changes in the main list were narrow but losses outnumbered gains as traders reaped part of profits built up during the past week. Rails held losses to fractions despite demands of the 14 non-operating railroad brotherhoods for wage increases and the closed shop.

Carrier issues led a moderate decline in domestic corporate bonds. Foreign bonds were mixed, while U. S. governments steadied in dull trade.

Sentiment continued confident. An indication was provided when stock exchange officials were authorized to sell a 4,000 share block of Anaconda Copper as a secondary offering after the market close.

Exchange officials had such confidence in the market undertone despite the short session, that they advised the block be placed on the market in the regular manner. Within 15 minutes the entire 4,000 shares were sold at 26, off only ⅛ point from the previous close.

Southern Pacific, the most active issue, eased ⅛ to 14⅝. Santa Fe was down a similar amount and smaller losses were recorded by most other prominent rails.

Bethlehem Steel steadied at 55⅞, off ⅛, U. S. Steel at 47⅝, unchanged, Chrysler at 63¼, unchanged, and General Motors at 39, off ⅛. Goodrich and U. S. Rubber equaled their 1942 highs and then eased minor fractions, while Goodyear established a new top at 22¼, up ⅛, and held well. International Harvester preferred gained 1 point, South Porto Rican Sugar preferred rose 2 points and Guantanamo Sugar preferred dropped 1 point.

American Crystal Sugar preferred, Food Machine, Pan American Airways and Schenley Distillers reached new 1942 highs early and most of them held well.

Sales were 226,825 shares, compared with 178,480 last Saturday. Curb stock sales were 40,385 shares against 34,655 last week.

The Dow-Jones preliminary closing averages: industrial, 109.32, off 0.05; rail, 27.28, off 0.24; utility, 12.12, off 0.06; and 65 stocks, 36.60, off 0.10.

Wendell Tops Hailey Club By 20-6 Score

WENDELL, Sept. 26—Coach Bob Childs' Wendell high eleven's winning record was still unmarred today but last Friday's conquerors of Jerome were given a big scare before they succeeded in overpowering Hailey, 20 to 6, here yesterday afternoon.

After taking the opening kickoff and driving 19 yards to the Hailey six-yard line and losing the ball on downs, Lee Bylngton, the Hailey right halfback, took a pass on a sleeper play and galloped 94 yards for a touchdown. This gave Hailey a 6-0 lead.

And that's the way the score remained until late in the second quarter, although Wendell marched six times to within the Hailey 15-yard line only to lose the ball either on downs or fumbles. However, on the seventh march Wendell followed through for a touchdown, Lloyd Schouweiler, quarterback, scoring on an end run. The try for the extra point failed.

After again losing the ball on the 20-yard line following a long march, Wendell scored its second touchdown with Schouweiler again going over on a slant off tackle from the five-yard line. Fullback Fred Beveridge punctured center for the extra point.

Wendell's third touchdown came in the final three minutes of play with Beveridge going through center for the six points. Hollis Fleischman, center, place-kicked the extra point.

Coach Childs praised the Hailey eleven after the game. He said that for an inexperienced team which had been practicing for about 10 days it displayed rare promise.

Wendell rang up 21 first-downs to one for Hailey.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 (UP)—Livestock:

Hogs: 400; for the week; weighty butchers led the upturn of a price advance of 50 to 75 cents per hundredweight in the hog department, sending prices equal to the 22-year high reached last month. Good and choice 210-300 lb. butchers sold up to $15.30, with lightweights scaling 200 lbs., down, bringing $14.60. Sows weighing 325 to 500 lbs., held at $15.10.

Cattle: 200; calves none. For the week: All livestock worked unevenly higher with strictly good and choice steers and yearlings sharing the 50 to 75 cent upswing in prices. Top steers reached $17.00 a new peak on the crop. Good fat steers reacted late in the week but held to net price increase of 25 cents. Numerous loads of well finished steers brought $16.90 on shipper and order buyer accounts.

Sheep: 500; for the week: Spring lambs advanced to about 25 cents higher, with yearlings 25 to 50 cents, and slaughter ewes remained about the same as last week. Western and native springers topped at $15, with good and choice natives priced at $14.75.

Sheep: 225; steady; common to wooled lambs $12; medium to good ewes with No. 1 and 2 pelts $5.75 to $6.10.

WOOL

BOSTON, Sept. 26 (UP)—Demand for practically all types of domestic wools continued in Boston wool market this week.

The volume of sales was not up to last week's due to the diminishing supply rather than to a smaller demand. Additional government orders were released requiring 100 per cent domestic wools. Purchases by Boston dealers of fall shorn wools in Texas were in larger volume at prices of 37-38c compared to 33½-35c on the first purchases made a week ago. Some holders are asking up to 40c.

Although very little wool is left unsold in the territory states, a few sales were reported in Wyoming at farm prices. The demand for both territory and fleece medium wools continued in Boston with prices very close to ceilings. Some Delaine staple wool was sold at ceiling prices and half-blood wool from the eastern states sold for 51c grease basis.

Women's Club in Jerome Planning District Meeting

JEROME, Sept. 26 — The members of the Business and Professional Women's club of Jerome will meet at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Giles at 7:30 p. m., Monday, at a dinner meeting. Each member has been asked to bring a prospective member.

Plans for the district convention to be held here and for the observance of business women's week, Oct. 11 to 17.

The president, Miss Edith Nancolas, announced another Victory book campaign. Books to be collected for use of the soldiers at the recreation center in Jerome and the resettlement camp at Hunt.

HANSEN

Members of the Excelsior Social club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Eugene Brown, with Mrs. Rudolph Martins in charge. Mrs. Ethel Harney received the white elephant, while Mrs. Harold Banning captured the contest prize.

A daughter was born at the Twin Falls county general maternity home Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Whismore.

Mrs. H. G. Lauterbach was hostess at her home in Hansen to members of the Kimberly Bridge club. Patriotic colors were used in connection with the dessert luncheon. Honors were received by Mrs. Grace Ross and Mrs. A. T. Powers.

Warren Robison and Deward Blevins entered the Albion State Normal school recently.

Mrs. Von Nebeker was returned from the Twin Falls county general hospital following a 10-day rest cure. Her condition continues to be unsatisfactory, however.

Because of the absence of several officers, the drill practice for the Royal Neighbor lodge this week was postponed. Plans are being made for the annual hobo party, according to Mrs. Cloe Weech. Hostess at the meeting was Mrs. Arch Wheeler. Mrs. Joe Hill, Marysville, Calif., was a guest.

• SERIAL STORY

OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Peter Frazier and Martin Cowley, last-year medical students, are visiting for appointments at fashionable Good Samaritan Hospital. Martin is engaged to Peter's step-cousin, Candace Meek, a student nurse whom Peter also loves. The two medics attend a reception for prospective interns by the hospital board chairman and his wife, Cyrus Hartshorne and Faith Hartshorne, their hostess' daughter, Marcia, relentlessly ambitious, sees in the girl a chance for advancement and social prestige.

• • •

FIRST DECEPTION

CHAPTER XII

GOING home in the train Martin chuckled. "You missed something, Pete. Boy, is that Hartshorne kid serious! She writes poetry, all about love and death and eternity. It seems she developed Potts disease when she was 5 or so and had to spend several years on a frame. She's all right now, but I suppose she had to be alone so much that that's the reason for all these deep thoughts and stuff. Anyway, the sun rises and sets in her as far as Papa and Mama are concerned, and she can have anything she wants—except, maybe, enough solitude to suit her: Mama makes her go out and do things; she would prefer her to be a social butterfly, I gather."

Peter was thinking of his brief talk with Dr. Patterson. Dr. Patterson was also professor of surgery at Medical College; Peter had been several times in his classes and had a slight chatting acquaintance with him. He had seen Peter standing alone at the window and had nodded for him to come over. "You're looking pretty grim, lad. Not liking this too much?"

Peter flushed. "Not much, sir," he admitted.

"Why?" Dr. Patterson asked. His eyes were twinkling. "Do you begrudge the ladies their small social pleasures?"

"I don't see what this sort of thing has to do with getting an appointment, sir. I don't see where it has any place in the practice of medicine."

"Don't you?" Dr. Patterson said. "But you'll admit, won't you, that the relationship of any one of these ladies to her physician is much more intimate than to that of any man—we trust!—she meets, excepting her husband? The laying on of hands and all that, you know. What about when they need a physician? Haven't these ladies who are so particular about other things, the right to be particular about that too?"

Peter knew he was being ribbed. He felt that he had been acting very young, and rather bumptious. He flushed uncomfortably.

Dr. Patterson said more gravely, patting his shoulder, "It doesn't really matter, Frazier. We humor the ladies. And for so doing we enjoy better equipment than many hospitals, we have more money to work with and therefore we are enabled to do more and better work—"

That they did do excellent work Peter knew. He thought, chastened, if my appointment is okayed I'll jump at it and be thankful for the chance. . . .

• • • •

IT was about a week later that Faith Hartshorne phoned Martin.

"This is Faith Hartshorne," she said. Her voice sounded thin and girlish over the phone, and a little uncertain. She was in town with her father and mother to attend a broadcast, the first in a new series her father's company was sponsoring. It was business for her father and for her mother too, really; and she wondered if he wouldn't like to meet them all for dinner and come along later to take the curse off it for her?

Martin said, "I don't see how I can," too surprised even to sound regretful.

She said, "I was afraid you wouldn't be able to make it, such short notice and all—"

Her voice sounded stiff, and maybe a little hurt, and he was immediately sorry—and alarmed.

He said quickly, "I was thinking of a bit of cramming I have to do. I can let that go, though, and do it tomorrow night."

They had dinner at a hotel whose stately portals Martin had passed only on the outside heretofore, and afterward at the broadcast they sat in the sponsors' box, among the mighty. There were moments when Martin could feel himself expanding with sheer physical pleasure, yet he had never passed a more uncomfortable evening in his life.

He was not sure that he was really wanted, in the first place. Mrs. Hartshorne said playfully of her daughter, apropos practically nothing at all, "Faith is a willful little girl, a very willful little girl," in a way that seemed to mean that perhaps Faith had overridden her parents' objections in having him there at all. And Old Man Hartshorne seemed to have him under a microscope, studying him.

THE pointed questions about his family, put in a tone of easy geniality, "What part of the country do you come from, Son? What's your dad in?" angered Martin.

That side of his life, with its power to haunt and corrode, Martin kept carefully guarded. He thought, furious, I'd like to give him both barrels. I'd like to let him have it. I'd like to admit that my Old Man's no good, that he's poor white trash, no-account to do anything but sit on his hunkers and talk big and envy guys on relief while my mother works like a man and two horses to keep the farm going and a roof over the kids' heads and so I can have a chance to Be Something.

But he couldn't afford that, he couldn't afford the luxury of being frank. With a careful choice of the right word and a playful turn of phrase his father emerged under his word painting as perhaps a Micawber but a cheerfully valiant one, the farm as an effort at a miniature Utopia where things sometimes went wrong, but always in a side-splittingly funny way.

Though he didn't know it, he had been at his best. The sharp changes in mood reflected in his expressive face combined with his really good voice to give his story some of the quality of a play; his underlying feeling of contempt lent to the performance an engaging air of devil-may-care.

A warm smile coming on the heels of it was the final undoing of Faith Hartshorne; it reduced her to a sudden gasping tenderness. Her eyes fell in momentary confusion, then lifted again to his —and he was astounded by the unmistakable look of worship he saw in them.

Mr. Hartshorne, too, was completely won. Chuckling still over the last of the droll episodes Martin had related, he said, "That's what I like, a man not ashamed of humble beginnings. Take me, for instance—"

But his wife was not as proud of humble beginnings as he himself was; she managed to sidetrack him cleverly. She had had quite enough of them and for that reason she would have preferred that this boy's people might be a bit more substantial, less "droll" and "amusing."

Martin had to phone Candace the next day and cancel their engagement for that evening. They had planned to see a particular movie and he knew that she had been looking forward to it and must be bitterly disappointed; but she said cheerfully, "There's always next time. Of course study must come first."

He didn't mention anything about the Hartshornes. For he had decided that after all you can't tell a girl, no matter how regular she is, that you're breaking a date with her because, instead of studying the night before, you were out with another girl.

RAILROADS BOOST SCRAP CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (U.P.) — Like housewives and farmers, American railroads are collecting their old rails and obsolete equipment to go into the scrap with the axis.

Officials of the Association of American Railroads said today that approximately 4,500,000 tons of scrap would be salvaged this year—approximately the same as during 1941.

They said the railroads' achievement this year was outstanding because the lines, being allotted little critical materials for new equipment, were trying to keep in operation cars, engines, and rails which normally would be replaced by new models.

This, however, has been overcome by the increasing abandonment of unprofitable lines authorized by state public utilities agencies and the interstate commerce commission. For example, ICC records show that already this year approximately as many miles of line have been approved for abandonment as were sanctioned during all of 1941. On Aug. 15, more than 100 abandonments involving 1,500 miles had been approved by the ICC.

Railroad men said abandoned rails and second-hand equipment might be even more useful to the war effort if they were used by the army, navy, war agencies or exported under lend-lease. Engines and cars going to such uses do not take the labor which new equipment would require, thus leaving the workers free for other war activities.

Scrap collections by the railroads are of vital importance in the current salvage campaign because they always have been the largest contributors of scrap metal except for the "home scrap" created by the iron and steel mills themselves while converting ingots into finished or semi-finished products.

200 GARMENTS NEEDED

JEROME, Sept. 26—Three hundred garments must be completed by the Red Cross volunteer workers by Dec. 1 for shipment, it was announced this week by chairman of sewing production, Mrs. E. M. Snodgrass. She also said more help was needed. Those who desire to knit should contact Mrs. E. E. LaTurner, chairman of knitting production.

Grange Furrows

By J. R. CRAWFORD

They were talking about schools over at the Hunt relocation center and most of the kiddies were anxious for school to start, believe it or not.

Some have criticized the government for having a sewage system over there, but did you ever stop to think what a menace it would be for a town of 10,000 people to have no adequate sewage disposal? Such an insanitary condition would endanger the lives of all Idaho.

Many Denominations

There are many religious sects represented at the camp including Buddist, Catholic, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Congregational, Christian and perhaps others that I did not hear about. Notices of time and place of holding Sunday school and church services were to be found on the mess halls. Also notices to persons who wished to sign up for outside labor and to pupils to enroll for school. In fact it seems that life is to be as normal as possible over at the camp. All Americans who are lovers of fair play will wish that the dust and cold winter will not be too severe on these sufferers from Japanese treachery. Let's be charitable as befits a God-fearing and peace-loving people.

It would be amusing to hear all the big shots worrying about the inflation due to the farmer getting a small amount of the wealth of the nation, if it were not so disgusting and maddening. Just 10 short years ago the whole country was weeping itself to death for the poor farmer, and we believed that their grief was sincere, or at least we tried to think that it was.

Remember?

The moneyed men of the country were so reluctantly (?) taking over the farms on mortgages and we farmers were being comforted with such a line of tripe as "Oh, well, you can at least have enough to eat." As if all of life were to get something to eat. Life becomes pretty elemental when that is all you have to see in the future.

The men and the women and children on the farms of America want to live as others who contribute as much as they to the national welfare. They have never asked more and they do not now. Nor should they be content with less. Too long the farmer has been deemed without money, for the transition to come easily. It has come, to a certain extent, for the laboring man, but only after years of bitter struggle.

And now these same folks that wish they could do something for the poor farmer have discarded the sheep pelt that they thought made them look like lambs, and are the wolves that they always were, and out for the kill. They are seeking to get the laboring man and the farmer to buck each other so that both may be weakened. There is no danger from inflation due to unwarranted war profits. There is never a bit of inflation in such things as a $700,000 earning of a movie executive. Nor in the earning of $400,000 by a movie actor or actress. There is no evidence of inflationary tendency when food that was selling at, say 25c per unit before Pearl Harbor, is now 39c per same unit.

Ranting and Raving

The radio, the press and even the President rant and rave because the farm bloc in congress is trying to work for the people who elected them. Only this morning I heard a radio commentator in a bitter tirade against this group, but never a word about the members of this august body who have spent their lives in working for big business. What does President Roosevelt know of hardship and privation as is often found on the farm or in the laborer's home, where only the barest necessities are to be had for years on years? Has he known the pangs of hunger or the bitter cold and dampness, lived without clothes and fuel to maintain bodily warmth

And now when the farmer and the laborer are about to get an even break with the professional man or the banker or the manufacturer, these friends (?) are revealed in their true colors. I have gone to bed at night hungry, and have gone to school with my bare feet on the ground and snow on the same ground that the laboring man and the farmer to buck each other so that both may be weakened. DEMAND GROWS FOR 2ND FRONT

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst

Bolstered by a month-long Russian defense of Stalingrad that has stirred the whole allied world to amazed admiration, public demand for Anglo-American second front operations now, not next year, to relieve pressure on Soviet lines reached new intensity at the week-end.

Warnings of high allied spokesmen against premature action went unheeded. Even the grim portents of heavy Canadian casualties at Dieppe and indicated near disaster for the British in the Tobruk raid failed to abate the calls for aggressive allied action in the west voiced not only in Moscow but on both sides of the Atlantic.

Fuel to Fire

Wendell Willkie's talks with Soviet officialdom as President Roosevelt's personal emissary added fuel to the fire. He also noted keen Russian disappointment at Anglo-American failure as yet to move in effectively except by air to divert German pressure.

Yet decisions as to both when and where of so stupendous an undertaking cannot conceivably be reached overnight or be based on any but utterly realistic military appraisal of the possibilities.

There is none too certain indication that the allied strategic councils in Washington and London are fully informed as to either nazi or Russian dispositions or the actual inroads into axis reserve strength the five-month battle in Russia has cost.

Seek Information

It seems obvious that even in Africa, where the tables appear to be turned or turning strongly in allied favor, the British command in Cairo lacks wholly dependable knowledge of the straits to which Marshal Rommel's once conquering Africa corps has been reduced. Imperial land and sea forays, including an astonishing desert dash through axis lines to Bengasi, west of the Libyan hump, and to Giulo oasis, 250 miles south, probably were seeking information primarily.

The need of a second front has never been in dispute. The will to achieve it or a multiple front attack to enfeb the axis with its lines now vastly extended in both Russia and Africa in a deadly cross fire is not lacking.

It will come, somehow, somewhere; but if it came prematurely disaster could result which could only increase, not decrease Russia's peril.

Salvation Army Does Big Job As Community Chest Member

(Editor's note: This is one in a series of brief articles concerning the eight member organizations of the Twin Falls Community Chest. The annual Chest campaign starts Oct. 6.)

As in thousands of other communities in the United States, the Salvation Army in Twin Falls shares in the funds raised through the Community Chest campaign and is one of the most important humanitarian agencies in the city.

In its work for the downtrodden, the activities of the Salvation Army are many, including religious work, youth activity, social service, classes for mothers and relief. In pursuing this program the Salvation Army here conducted 780 meetings which had a total attendance of 20,701 persons.

Religious Work

In its religious work, Bible study and training was conducted, pastoral visitations were made, Sunday school sessions and district meetings were held and confidential aid given.

Two hundred and sixty-six youth meetings were held with a total attendance of 3,840; club work for boys and girls of all ages was conducted; vocal and instrumental training in music was given; a 10 days' music camp was conducted at Trestle Glen, Ore., while at a 10 days' summer camp at Payette lakes classes in first aid, hikes, swimming and outings were conducted. In addition leadership training and vocational guidance were given to young men and women.

In its social service work, the Salvation Army here obtained admittance to the Boise home and hospital for seven unwed girls to whom six babies were born. These mothers were given 540 days of care while their children received 442 days of care at a cost of $701. The local organization also helped to remedy family maladjustment.

Mothers Helped

There was a total attendance of 391 at the classes for mothers, who received religious training, instruction in the proper care of the family, sewing, practical help in economy, instruction in personal and family hygiene and participated in the remaking of discarded garments.

The Salvation Army's relief program provided 1,012 garments and shoes for the needy, while 751 persons were provided with meals, groceries and beds for the night.

The Army played a vital role in the Christmas basket distribution.

Ladies' Night at Sacrament Meet

Ladies' night will be observed at the first ward sacrament meeting at the L.D.S. tabernacle today at 7:30 p.m. Bishop N. W. Arrington will preside, and talks will be made by Mrs. Jay Merrill and Mrs. Marvin Bond.

Other speakers will be Mrs. E. B. Freeman and Mrs. A. T. Hull. Musical numbers will include two selections by the C. L. Luke family; selections by the Relief society's Singing Mothers.

Mrs. L. M. Whitehead will offer the opening prayer and Mrs. D. R. Johnston the benediction.

GOP TICKET FOR STATE COMPLETE

BOISE, Sept. 26 (AP)—Idaho Republicans plan to have a complete ticket for the general election Nov. 3.

State Chairman Reilly Atkinson said Mrs. Lela D. Painter of Caldwell has accepted the write-in nomination on the ticket as a candidate for state treasurer, and Gordon Smith of Boise had tentatively accepted a similar write-in nomination as a candidate for state mine inspector. He added that Ross Rowe of Rigby "might reconsider" his rejection of a write-in candidacy for state superintendent of public instruction.

The party had no nominees for these three offices on the regular primary ballot.

Nine, Count 'em

Capt. John L. Smith of Lexington, Okla., marine fighter pilot, shot down four Jap zero planes in 15 minutes near Guadalcanal, boosting his nine-day total to nine enemy planes.

Prisoner Wants Pipes, Tobacco

WENDELL, Sept. 26—Miss Carol Almberg has received a letter from Bert Alex Nelson, a civilian worker who was captured by the Japanese with the fall of Wake Island and is now a war prisoner in Shanghai, China. The letter said, in part:

"This letter will let you know that I am in the best of health. Am working as a cook here and gaining most of my weight back the lost weight while at Wake Island). If you desire to contact me in case of necessity you may cable through the International Red Cross in Geneva or by writing to his address. I certainly miss my pipes and tobacco. So if possible please send me some pipes and tobacco or Bull Durham. I am treated well by the Japanese, so there is no need to worry."

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Sept. 26 (AP)—Walter Locker, 15, of Kellogg, was arrested today on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the automobile collision which took the life of Billie Kokki, 2, Sunday in Fourth of July canyon east of here.

NELSON PUSHES REORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—In a major reorganization which got no heralding save his pledge to "get touch," Chairman Donald M. Nelson was well advanced today in efforts to liquidate two major war production board problems—the faltering flow of materials and friction with the armed services.

From high WPB sources it was learned that Nelson has ordered a wide-open throttle in the transition from priorities to allocations in covering the flow of scarce materials into war plants.

By transplanting Ferdinand Eberstadt, head of the army-navy munitions board, to his right hand as vice chairman of WPB, Nelson served notice that any conflict between WPB and military officials might be considered "a dead duck," in the words of one official, who may not be quoted by name.

Replace Priority System

Instructions have been issued from Nelson's office to replace the priority system as rapidly as possible with an allocation system which will give each manufacturer his slice of the materials pie along with his war contract.

Appointment of Eberstadt and Charles E. Wilson to two new vice chairmanships last week wrought a fundamental change in WPB organization and implemented the new policy.

Starting End

Eberstadt, the New York investment banker, took a position at the starting end of production—planning, directing materials into the proper channels, getting comprehensive, detailed and accurate schedules from the army and navy.

Wilson, the president of General Electric company, was placed at the other end of production—seeing that production schedules are met, eliminating bottlenecks, breaking the logjam if shipyard requirements, for instance, interfere with tank production or vice versa.

Death Comes for Mrs. Jack Dennis

Mrs. Elizabeth Yates Gardner Dennis, 61, wife of Jack Dennis, died Friday at her home, 159 Lois street. She had lived here for eight years, coming to Twin Falls from Butte, Mont.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10:30 a.m. at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel, Rev. S. A. Carlson, Filer Baptist minister, officiating.

Interment will be in Sunset memorial park, under the direction of the Twin Falls mortuary.

Mrs. Dennis was born March 5, 1881, at Bowling Green, Ky. She joined the Baptist church at the age of 16. She was married to Jack Dennis in 1922.

Surviving are her husband; one brother, H. W. Gardner, Missoula, Mont., and a sister, Mrs. Eunice Claypool, South Pasadena, Calif.

Workman's Hand Hurt at Laundry

Joe Keller, 72, washman at the Troy Laundry, received a severe injury to his left hand near noon yesterday when a washing machine accidentally went into operation while his hand was in it.

Keller's physician last night said flesh was ripped off the back of the hand, three tendons were lacerated, and the hand was badly crushed. He said he thought use of the fingers could be saved, but there might be only limited use of one finger.

At the laundry it was said that Keller had his hand in the washer when the starting switch was accidentally closed. Keller lives at 145 Addison east.
